SERGEANT-AT-ARMS: Good morning. This is a microphone check for the Subcommittee on Landmarks, Public Sitings and Dispositions. Today's date is October 1, 2024, recorded by Edwards on the 16th Floor.

SERGEANT-AT-ARMS: Can everybody settle down, please? Everybody settle down.

Good morning, and welcome to the New York
City Council hearing of the Committee on Landmarks, Public Sitings and Dispositions.

At this time, can everybody please silence your cell phones.

If you wish to testify, please go up to the Sergeant-at-Arms desk to fill out a testimony slip. Written testimony can be emailed to landusetestimony@council.nyc.gov. Once again, that is landusetestimony@council.nyc.gov.

At this time and going forward, no one is to approach the dais. I repeat, no one is to approach the dais.

Chair, we are ready to begin.

CHAIRPERSON HANKS: [GAVEL] Good morning.

Welcome to the meeting on Subcommittee on Landmarks,

Public Sitings and Dispositions. I am Council Member

I will remind members of the public that this is a government proceeding and that decorum will be observed at all times. As such, members of the public shall remain silent unless and until called to testify.

The witness table is reserved for people who wish to testify. No video or recording or photography is allowed from the witness table.

Further, members of the public may not present audio or video recordings as testimony, but they may submit transcripts of such recordings to the Sergeant for inclusion in the hearing record.

On today's agenda, we have a hearing on LU-158, 159, 160 in South Jamaica Gateway Rezoning in Speaker Adams' and Council Member Williams' District in Queens, Pre-Considered Land Use MHANY Multifamily Preservation Loan Program in Council Members Joseph, Louis, and Narcisse's Districts in Brooklyn.

Now, I'm going to open up the public hearing for Pre-Considered LU applications brought by New York City Department of Housing, Preservation, and Development for MHANY Multifamily Preservation

Loan Program, which includes the designation of an urban development action area, approval of an urban development action project, disposition of City-owned and approval of an Article XI tax exemption pursuant to Section 577 of the private housing finance law for a 40-year exemption from real estate property taxation to facilitate preservation of an affordable housing project. The project is located in multiple neighborhoods throughout Brooklyn. Upon completion of rehabilitation of these four buildings, there will be a total of 12 rental units and one commercial space under the HPD Multi-Preservation Loan Program.

Appearing today on this proposal is Nicholas Simmons,
Director of Construction and Development, Alessandra Woodman, Project Manager of MHANY, so M-H-A-N-Y for the public's (INAUDIBLE) Carl Hedman, Director of Leveraged Preservation Programs, and those wishing to testify must register online by visiting the Council's website at council.nyc.landuse.

Counsel, will you please administer the affirmation?

COMMITTEE COUNSEL: Panelists, would you please raise your right hand and state your name for the record?

DIRECTOR HEDMAN: Carl Hedman.

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: Nicholas Simmons.

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: I do.

ALESSANDRA WOODMAN: I do.

CHAIRPERSON HANKS: Thank you. For the viewing public, if you need an accessible version of this presentation, please send an email request to landusetestimony@council.nyc.gov.

Now, the applicant team may begin. Thank you.

DIRECTOR HEDMAN: Hi. Good morning. My name is Carl Hedman. I'm Director of Leveraged Preservation Programs at HPD, and I'm here to start off the presentation.

Today, this morning, we'll be discussing TBK1007, MHANY. It's a Multifamily Preservation Loan Program project, ULURP number G 240058 XUK. We can advance to the next slide, please.

This is just a quick map showing locations of the projects within Brooklyn in the 2 Flatbush and Canarsie neighborhoods. We'll be

3 discussing the individual properties in the

The proposed action today, the applicant is the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development. As mentioned previously, these buildings are part of the Multifamily Preservation Loan Program, MPLP, which designates qualified sponsors to purchase and rehabilitate City-owned vacant and/or occupied multifamily and mixed-use buildings in order to create low-to-moderate income rental housing. At closing, the properties will be sold to the sponsor, MHANY Mother Gaston, LLC, for a nominal 1-dollar price per property. The property manager will be MHANY Management, and the land use actions today are an Urban Development Action Area designation and an Urban Development Action Area project UDAAP approval, the disposition of City-owned development sites. Those are blocks 4735, 7922, 5022, 5089, and lots 43, 22, 10, and 20, respectively. At closing, we're requesting an Article XI tax exemption for the cluster of these buildings and a 40-year regulatory agreement preserving the affordability so you can advance the next slide, please.

ALESSANDRA WOODMAN: Hi, everyone. I'm Alessandra Woodman, Project Manager at MHANY Management. The MHANY Brooklyn cluster includes four City-owned buildings with 12 residential units and one commercial space. The addresses are 1073 Eureka Avenue, which is currently occupied, 649 East 87th Street, which is also occupied, 996 East 46th Street, occupied, and 38 Martense, which is vacant. The cluster consists of five occupied units in total, seven vacant units, and one vacant commercial space at 1073 Eureka Avenue. Currently, there's no existing regulatory agreement because these are City-owned buildings. These properties will go through substantial and moderate rehab. Overall, the cluster, it's composed of third-party transfer buildings, MPLP, and a private cluster. In total, we have 13 buildings and 116 units around Brooklyn. So, HPD will enter into a regulatory agreement for all of these 13 buildings with substantial rehab, with a private loan, City capital subsidy, and LIHTC equity. The first building... oh, next slide, please.

So, the first building is 1073 Eureka Avenue in Brooklyn in the East Flatbush neighborhood, Council District 45 and Council Member Farrah Louis. It has two floors, two residential units that are occupied, one that is vacant, and the commercial space, which is also vacant. As you can see in the map, it's located in Eureka Avenue between Tilden Avenue and Beverly Road.

The next building is 996 East 46th Street in the East Flatbush neighborhood at Brooklyn, Council District 45, Council Member Farrah Louis. It has two floors. Both residential units are currently occupied. This is between Farragut Road and Glenwood Road in East 46th Street.

Third building is 639 East 87th Street, Canarsie, Brooklyn, Council District 46, Council Member Mercedes Narcisse. Two floors, one residential unit, which is currently occupied, and between Foster Avenue and, I can't see the name of the other one, Glenwood Road, I quess.

Last building we'll talk about is 38 Martense in Flatbush neighborhood in Brooklyn, Council District 40, Council Member Rita Joseph. It has three floors, six residential units that are all 2 vacant.

vacant, and this is between, it's very close to Flatbush Avenue and Carleton Avenue. Next slide, please.

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: Hi. My name is Nick Simmons. I'm the Director of Construction and Development with MHANY Management. I'll be going over the next few slides. The slide that we're going to be going over now is just a little introduction, a brief history on MHANY Management. MHANY, Mutual Housing Association of New York, which is the acronym for MHANY, is a 501(c)3 not-for-profit. We've been around for nearly 40 years. As you can see on the slide, we have a portfolio of around over 220 buildings, over 3,000 units that are all for low- and moderate-income individuals and families, and about 10,000 square feet of commercial space across New York City. We're primarily in East New York, Brownsville, East Brooklyn neighborhoods, and South Bronx, but we are also in East Harlem and a little bit in Queens, Jamaica, Queens area. You can go to the next slide.

So, can we go one slide back? Thank you.

So, MHANY's mission is to increase affordable housing for low-income and moderate-income families with a focus on preservation and deep affordability. We aim to improve the way affordable housing for low-income and moderate-income people is developed and operated. We work with building and community residents to get involved with their communities and neighborhoods, and another mission is to improve the community conditions and increase neighborhood involvement. Next slide, please.

ALESSANDRA WOODMAN: So, to give you a summary of the work for this cluster, it will be a substantial rehab to address 38 Martense, which has been vacant for quite some time, and then there'll be a moderate rehab for the other three buildings, 1073 Utica, 639 East 87, and 996 East 46. Just to give a little context, these buildings are occupied with families that have been there for a long time. There has been a lot of conversation with residents, a lot of engagement in which they have expressed that they do not want to be relocated. For them, they've lived there their whole life. It's their home so we changed the scope and worked around them to be able to keep them in place while we do the work. That's what they want, and we'll do it that way. So, like we were saying, it's 12 units across these four buildings, and we're not changing the unit mix. It will be 12 units of affordable housing after our renovations.

There's one commercial space at 1073 Utica, which will be also renovated for any new tenant to move there and then make it their own space based on their needs. There's 10,062 gross square feet of residential space and 810 gross rate of commercial space in total for these four buildings. Existing tenants will be offered a preferential rent to preserve their affordability. That's really important for MHANY and HPD and, for the whole cluster, which is 14 buildings, we'll set a 15 percent set aside for formerly homeless individuals or families.

The scope of work, kind of the highlights of what it includes, if we go to the next slide, please, will be roof replacement, façade work, window replacement, electrical upgrades, boiler replacement, and in-unit repair, which focuses for the (INAUDIBLE), rehabs in new kitchens and new bathrooms as well as new flooring, painting, anything that is needed so it looks and it is brand new. The construction for the whole cluster, the 14 buildings, is anticipated to last 27 months. We are planning on doing it in two phases because it's 13 buildings and that way residents, it will take around 13 months for

2 each phase, while residents are some in place and 3 some relocated.

So, to give you a unit mix, like I said, we are not changing the unit count. We have, from those four buildings, 12 units. There's nine one-bedrooms. There is three two-bedrooms for the total of 12, and that's what it will look like after renovation.

If we look at the AMIs, the units that are currently occupied will be at 40 percent AMI, which is five units, and the vacant units will be at 75 percent AMI, which is seven units. If we can move two slides, please. So, yeah, that's what I was talking about, the AMI. And here, just to give you an overall of the project, like I'm saying, it's 13 buildings. It's scattered around many neighborhoods in Brooklyn. It's 116 units in total, and from those, we're looking at almost half of them being at 40 percent AMI. That's our strong number. And then we see 24 units are going to be at 50 percent AMI, 14 units will be at 60 percent, 13 at 70, and seven at 75, with one super unit. The plan has been to do that tiered, so there's a broad spectrum of residents that could move into those units, and total, like I said, it's 116 units, the whole project. That's it.

CHAIRPERSON HANKS: Thank you so much. Now I'd like to recognize some of my Colleagues, if they have any questions or remarks. Council Member Narcisse.

and thank you for being here, and thank you for answering almost all my questions before. This is a great project. The whole idea, we're in a crisis, and keeping housing affordable for those in need is always a great thing in our city and in my District, and one other thing too, you prevent those housing, you prevent them from being an eyesore in our community too, because you're fixing them.

And my question is, while the construction is going on, how much involved the tenants are, because they're already occupied? Are you keeping them up to date on a regular basis? Is it contractors? I mean, are you introducing the contractors who are doing the construction with the tenants, and to understand the rule and regulation, what can be done? Are those things being discussed?

ALESSANDRA WOODMAN: Absolutely. We'll 2 3 have tenant meetings with our team, HPD, the contractors and the architects, to go through what is 4 the next steps, what is the plan, how the actual renovation is going to be with the tenants in place 6 7 so they'll feel more comfortable of what's next so, 8 when we do renovation with tenants in place, we normally work by sectors. So, for example, we're doing the kitchen, we try and leave some space for a 10 11 temporary kitchen for them, and every day, the 12 contractors work there, and they clean the space 13 after, so residents can be living there in some way, comfortably, while we do the work.

COUNCIL MEMBER NARCISSE: Okay. My next question is the roofing because to do a complete roof, how is that going to be working while the house is occupied?

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: Yeah, just to answer your last question, we also went to all the residents to get them to sign the tenant layout to make sure that the layout that will be eventually built is something that they're going to be comfortable with so that all the residents have been showed what the layouts will look like, and that we try to get all

2 their sign-offs, and I think we did pretty well with 3 that.

In regards to the renovations, MHANY's bread and butter is doing renovations with tenants in place. The majority of our portfolio is our existing buildings, so they do need to get renovated, and our vacancy is about 2 percent out of the 3,000 apartments so it's very low vacancy turnover. So, in order to do a renovation with tenants in place and not to be so disruptive, we try to use contract that has experience so that's the first stop. We're not going to bid the project out to a contract that has never worked with a resident in place. Specifically for a roof, they're going to look at the weather to make sure they're not doing it during the raining or snowing season and, based off the weather, they will create a schedule. They will put down a temporary roof, tarping until the permanent roof could go down, and if there is a case where there is a leak during the construction of the roof, MHANY will be responsible for any damages that does happen because it is construction. Stuff does happen, but for the most part, from my experience, I've done maybe about 20 buildings with roofs with residents in place. I've only had one instance like that, and that was just because a freak rainstorm came out of nowhere, and we do boilers, too. We change boilers with residents in place. We give them temporary heating devices, whether that's an in-unit electrical heater, or we set them up with a temporary boiler that you might see when you're driving across New York City that are parked on the street in front of the building with a vent that goes towards the building so we work with the contractors, and from our experience, we talk with the residents, and we do the coordinating with the residents. We don't allow the contractors to do the coordinating because it helps our relationship, and after the construction, it helps us maintain a good relationship going forward after, and we keep it

COUNCIL MEMBER NARCISSE: In case the house becomes not livable, do you have a plan to get those folks in a temporary place, in a hotel or something? Is any kind of things like that in place?

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: Yeah, so for the four buildings that we're focused on today, so I think the one building that will need substantial is actually

2 the vacant one on 1073 Utica, so we won't have to 3 relocate anyone.

ALESSANDRA WOODMAN: 38 Martense.

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: No, Martense, sorry, 38 Martense, so that is vacant so there won't be any relocation. In the portfolio, there is another building that has some structural issues so we'll need to do some temporary relocating, and how we do temporary relocations, when that time comes, we sometimes use a broker to find available apartments that are of the same size bedroom, so they're not downsizing or upsizing. MHANY also has buildings in the neighborhood, so when we have vacant units that are ready to be rented, we use those as temporary relocation apartments sometimes, and I think for this project, one of the ideas is to work on the vacant buildings first, and then those buildings will have vacant units, and if we need to relocate anyone, we can use those buildings, so we wouldn't have to go to the market or a broker.

COUNCIL MEMBER NARCISSE: My last question, how is the condition of those places that occupied now, are they livable for real?

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: What MHANY has done since the TBT round was designated, I think it was 2018, so it was a very long time ago, we've managed the buildings, so what we do is we try to keep it in living order, because the residents still have to pay their rent, so if there is issues, we do try to take care of them. When it's a big capital improvement, we try to ask them to be patient because the renovations need to take place, but if there's a heating issue, leaks, anything, any emergency issues, those get addressed right away, but I think more cosmetic or flooring, you can't really do that with the resident in place, so those stuff, we ask the residents to be patient, some of them are patient, some of them, it's been since 2018, so it's time, and understandably, I think they're right when it is time to get the work done.

COUNCIL MEMBER NARCISSE: All right, thank you. Thank you, Chair. Thank you, my Colleagues.

CHAIRPERSON HANKS: Thank you so much.

Before I recognize Council Member Louis, I'd like to recognize that Council Member Feliz and Council Member Salaam are also here.

1 DISPOSITIONS 21 2 So now we have Council Member Joseph for 3 some questions. 4 COUNCIL MEMBER JOSEPH: Good morning, thank you. 38 Martense, you said it was six vacant 5 units? 6 7 ALESSANDRA WOODMAN: Correct. 8 NICHOLAS SIMMONS: Correct. 9 COUNCIL MEMBER JOSEPH: And what are the make-ups going to be, one, two bedrooms? 10 11 ALESSANDRA WOODMAN: I believe they're all two bedrooms. 12 COUNCIL MEMBER JOSEPH: All two bedrooms, 13 good. And in terms of affordability? 14 15 ALESSANDRA WOODMAN: I'm sorry, I'm sorry, 16 I'm wrong. It's four one-bedrooms, two two-bedrooms. 17 COUNCIL MEMBER JOSEPH: Four one-bedrooms 18 and two two-bedrooms. Thank you. And in terms of 19 affordability, will there be a community outreach 20 part? 21

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: Yes, so we're open for the entire cluster, because this is not the only building that we do need to fill. We will be going to the community, and we are open to recommendations from you guys if you have any in regards to it.

24

2.2

2.3

COUNCIL MEMBER JOSEPH: And you said the renovations, well, I know it's a vacant. I've seen it. It's in my District. I'm familiar with the property. When I first got in, I kept on asking who owns it, and nobody could tell me. They said there was an owner, but nobody knew where. In terms of affordability, we talked about that, and that should be what are the AMIs for that?

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: So those are all vacant, so we're setting all of the vacant ones at 75 percent AMI.

COUNCIL MEMBER JOSEPH: Why so high? The median income in Flatbush, where it is, is on Martense, between Flatbush and Bedford.

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: Understood, and yes, we agree and don't believe that AMIs really reflect the neighborhood. All of our buildings in all of our neighborhoods, we feel the same way. However, the amount of work that is needed is a lot throughout the cluster, so what we wanted to do for the residents that were in place, that's why we wanted to leave those at 40 percent AMI, as low as we could try to make sure that we're not making them rent burdened and then, since these are vacant units, we figured it might be easier to fill them with new residents that 2 could afford them.

COUNCIL MEMBER JOSEPH: That doesn't come from the neighborhood. If we're really talking about affordability, which is what we're facing right now in this city, it's an affordability crisis. We need to look at the AMI, and that part of the neighborhood, that AMI does not reflect that part of the neighborhood so I'm going to advocate on behalf of my constituent always to make sure it reflects the needs of the community, if we want to make sure we're not displacing anyone and we want to keep folks here, we have to offer them, you don't want to rent burden, but we also want to make sure neighbors stay in the communities as well. If we're offering it to the community, it should go to Community Boards. Let me know if that's something we need to have a side conversation. I'm open for that, but 75 AMI is outrageous.

NICHOLAS SIMMONS: Okay. Understood. I think we talked to our Executive Director that wasn't able to make it today, just had an emergency. We are open to suggestions in regards to setting the AMIs. For our portfolio of buildings, we also do have preferential rents for some tenants, for cases like this where we're not trying to rent burden them or we can't fill the units because the neighborhood isn't at that AMI like you mentioned so, yes, we would love to...

side conversation on that. Thank you. Because affordability right now, that's what all New Yorkers face across the board. We don't want none of our residents to be displaced, and we're seeing more and more. As you may know, more and more families are entering shelters. I was an educator, so most of my kids, 114,000 kids in the New York City public schools live in shelters. That's opening a door for a family to enter. We really need to look at how we address neighborhoods. We can't do a cookie-cutter model for a whole neighborhood. It has to meet the needs of the neighborhood where they are. Thank you, and I look forward to working with you.

CHAIRPERSON HANKS: Thank you, Council Member.

Next, I'm going to read a statement from Council Member Louis.

Thank you, Chair Hanks, which is me, for 2 3 allowing me to submit this statement on the record 4 today. I would like to acknowledge today's hearing on the Multifamily Preservation Loan Program application for MHANY Management to oversee the rehabilitation of 6 two properties in my District. I want to applaud 7 8 MHANY for their remarkable work in providing affordable housing across our city. However, I must express my concerns regarding HPD's recent 10 11 performance in my District. My experience with HPD has been marked by a troubling lack of communication 12 13 and coordination, particularly on these two major 14 projects. The Article XI at Flatbush Garden suffered 15 an inadequate communications plan with tenants and surrounding community. Additionally, the Bethany 16 17 Senior Terraces, one of our flagship affordable 18 housing developments, was launched with insufficient 19 outreach and notification to the residents who need 20 it most. It would be a disservice to my constituents 21 to support this project without clear safeguards and assurances from HPD. We need to know how our 2.2 2.3 communities will be engaged in future housing lottery efforts, how current residents will be kept housed 24 during construction, and how we will address issues

JACK HEANEY: I do.

CHAIRPERSON HANKS: Thank you. For the viewing public, if you need an accessible version of this presentation, please send an email request to landusetestimony@council.nyc.gov.

Now, the applicant team may begin.

ANNABELLE MEUNIER: Thank you and good morning, Chair Hanks and Members of the City Council Land Use Subcommittee on Landmarks, Public Sitings and Dispositions. Thank you, Chair Hanks. As you mentioned, my name is Annabelle Meunier, and I am a Senior Planner with HPD's Queens and Staten Island Planning Team in the Office of Neighborhood Strategies, and I'm here to present the South Jamaica Gateway Rezoning Project today, and I'm joined by Jack Heaney, Founder and Managing Principal of Fulcrum Properties, who is part of the development team for this project, as well as Bryan White, Chairman of the Thomas White Jr. Foundation, one of the non-profit partners for this project, and we're also joined today in the audience by Kevin Parris, Director of the Queens and Staten Island Planning at HPD as well as the other members of the development team, Ira Brown, who is the Director of Development and General Counsel for the Briarwood Organization, and Bernard Warren, managing member of Moses Sole Realty as well as other HPD staff on this project who are present, and we thank you for the opportunity to present this project today. Next slide, please.

This is an application by the New York City Department of Housing Preservation and Development and the development team, which is a joint venture between Fulcrum Properties, the Briarwood Organization, and Moses Sole Realty and, importantly, the non-profit partners, the Godian Fellowship, and the Thomas White Jr. Foundation.
Pastor Kendra Manigault represents the Godian Fellowship and could not make it in person but is observing remotely. Next slide, please.

This application was certified into ULURP on May 28, 2024. The proposed land use actions and proposed project are listed here, and we will go over these later in the presentation. Next slide, please.

The majority of this project area, as shown here, was zoned in its current designation of R5D with a C1-4 commercial overlay as part of the City-sponsored Jamaica Plan Rezoning, approved in September 2007. The Jamaica Plan was a comprehensive planning and rezoning strategy for a 368-block area designed to encourage the economic revitalization of downtown Jamaica as well as encourage the provision of affordable housing while preserving the adjoining residential homeowner neighborhoods. Prior to 2007, the rezoning area was zoned R4 with a C1-2 commercial overlay, which was the original zoning designation established in 1961 when the zoning resolution of the City of New York was first enacted. Next slide, please.

The two HPD-owned lots in the proposed project area were later included as part of the Revitalizing Neighborhoods New Infill Homeownership Opportunities Program, or NIHOP, and Neighborhood Construction Program, or NCP, request for qualifications, published in 2014. In 2018, this development team was awarded the cluster included in South Jamaica and later brought on their non-profit partners and worked with HPD to create a separate proposal and project plan that would facilitate the production of more affordable housing, helping meet a stated need in this area. Next slide, please.

This slide shows the existing conditions on both sites. The project's objectives are to create a new R7A C1-4 district with MIH requirements that would allow for approximately 143 units of new lowincome or workforce housing units on two underutilized commercial properties where no housing currently exists, to provide worship and office spaces for these two existing non-profit owners that have been providing worship and social services to South Jamaica for over 40 years, and finally to enhance the public realm along Tuskegee Airmen Way and Guy R. Brewer Boulevard with new streetscaping, including trees and street furniture, and community benefits would include Community Board 12 resident preference for 20 percent of the apartments, expanded community services, and M/WBE and local subcontractor hiring. Next slide, please.

Once again, the proposed actions as certified on May 28th are, number one, a zoning map amendment from R4, R5B, R5D, and R5D with a C1-4 overlay to R7A with no change in the overlay for portions of block fronts on blocks 10129 and 10161, you can see the map comparison shown, the rezoning area is highlighted in yellow for visibility, number two, a zoning text amendment to the New York City Zoning Resolution Appendix F, including inclusionary housing designated areas and Mandatory Inclusionary Housing areas to establish the rezoning area as a Mandatory Inclusionary Housing area and, number three, an urban development action area designation and approval of an urban development action area project for proposed development A, including the disposition of the City-owned portion of Development Site A, or Block 10161, Lots 3 and 9, to the developer. Next slide, please.

The two development sites for this proposal are shown here. Development Site A is located at 106-01 Guy R. Brewer Boulevard on the eastern side of the street and comprises Queens Block 10161 Lots 1, 3, and 9. Lot 1 is privately owned, and Lots 3 and 9 are City-owned under HPD jurisdiction. Lot 9 is not within the proposed rezoning area. And Site A is the site that would be subject to the UDAAP, and this site is located in Council District 27. Development Site B is located at 162-02 Tuskegee Airmen Way on the southern side of the street at the intersection of Union Hall Street and consists of three privately owned lots, Queens Block 10129 Lots

3 District 28.

I will now pass the presentation over to Jack Heaney, who will discuss the proposed developments and affordability and speak a little more on the non-profit partners.

JACK HEANEY: Thank you, Annabelle. So, zooming in on the development sites, Site A, which is the home of Godian Fellowship Church, this will be 100 percent affordable senior housing, 79 units total, contained in a nine-story building that will be following AERS zoning rules. Oh, I'm sorry. Next slide, please. The gross square footage of the Site A is approximately 42,000 square feet. The ground floor will be activated by Godian Fellowship's new home, which will be approximately 4,000 square feet on the ground floor and cellar, interior recreation spaces for the senior residents as well as an outdoor garden space that's adjacent to the project. In addition to the housing units above, there will be several terraces and interior recreation spaces, again, for use by the senior residents. Next slide, please.

Site B is the home of the Thomas White Foundation. This will follow Mandatory Inclusionary

Housing zoning. It will be approximately 66 units, again, nine stories. The ground floor will be activated by Thomas White Foundation's new home with units above as well as several exterior terraces for resident recreation and a rooftop that's accessible as well. Thomas White's new home will be approximately 12,000 square feet on the ground floor and cellar, and there will be parking for approximately 16 spaces. Next slide, please.

So, going back to Development Site A, this will be 100 percent affordable through HPD's SARA program, so all of the residents, all the units will have project-based vouchers. Within this mix, there will be 30 percent of the residents will be set aside for formerly homeless seniors who will be referred to the project through DHS and a non-profit social service provider. The remaining units will be set at approximately 40 percent AMI of income, but again, the project as a whole will be 100 percent project-based vouchers to ensure that the rent remains affordable for folks who are primarily on Social Security income. Next slide, please.

Development Site B, which is the Thomas White Foundation's home, this will be developed through the NCP program, so this will be a multifamily mixed-income project. 15 percent of the units will be set aside for formerly homeless individuals. The bulk of the units will be set at 50 percent of AMI, and the remaining will be at approximately 80 percent AMI. This will be a mix of studios, ones, twos, and three bedrooms to accommodate larger families in the neighborhood. Next ANNABELLE MEUNIER: Thank you, Jack. This slide is just showing where we are in terms of ULURP. The project was reviewed and voted favorably by the Community Board, and I'll point out that the timeline was short in terms of ULURP, but this project has actually been in the making for many years, and the development team and the non-profit partners conducted thorough outreach with the community so the Board was pretty familiar with this application by the time of their vote, thank you to Bryan, and the project also received a favorable vote by Queens Borough President Donovan Richards' office and was approved unanimously by the City Planning Commission on September 11th. This concludes our presentation. Thank you all for your time today.

CHAIRPERSON HANKS: Thank you so much. I do have one question. The Borough President recommended a 30 percent M/WBE contracting goal. Does HPD have targets for reaching the M/WBE goal for contracting?

JACK HEANEY: So both HPD and the developer team and the contractor team who is with us today intend to meet and exceed that goal of 30 percent, and we'll be working in partnership, actually with the Thomas White Foundation. Bryan, I don't know if you want to say a few words about your job training programs.

BRYAN WHITE: Yes. Good afternoon. The

Thomas White Jr. Foundation, formerly J-CAP

Foundation, founded by City Councilman Thomas White,

the late Thomas White, has been involved in community empowerment for over 40 years. We are currently providing OSHA training and also computer professional training classes to the residents of the community to help them in a lot of the economic development that is going on in Southeast Queens right now. As a member of the JFK Redevelopment public?

SUBCOMMITTEE ON LANDMARKS, PUBLIC SITINGS AND DISPOSITIONS There are no members of the public who wish to testify. CHAIRPERSON HANKS: With there be no other members of the public who wish to testify on LU-158, 159, and 160, South Jamaica Queens Gateway rezoning, this public hearing is now closed. That concludes today's business. I would like to thank the members of the public, my Colleagues, Subcommittee Counsel, Land Use Staff, and the Sergeant-at-Arms for all your participation today. This meeting is hereby adjourned. [GAVEL]
