INVOCATION

The Invocation was delivered by: Rabbi Mark Kaiserman, The Reform Temple of Forest Hills, 71-11 112th Street, Forest Hills, N.Y. 11375.

Yesterday was Yom Kippur, the holiest day on the Jewish calendar, so needless to say, I'm quite tired.
It is a day that speaks of repentance and regret, holiness and hope.
Our prayers are often directed to fate as to what is in store for the year to come, yet we know truly our future is also defined by our own actions and our intentions.
As this Council meets, they will be confronted with many things out of their control,
God give them the strength to recognize the potency of their responses.
Let God's will not be our shield but our inspiration;
let "it was meant to be" not be our credo but inspire us as to what we can do next.
Oh God shelter and safeguard our public servants, watch over our community, the City of New York,
and all those who seek a better future and let us all find the power to weather any storm because we know tomorrow's possibilities are endless and we work together.
Amen.

Council Member Koslowitz moved to spread the invocation in full upon the record.

During the Communication from the Speaker segment of this Meeting, the Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) asked for a Moment of Silence in memory of the following:

Brooklyn District Attorney Kenneth P. Thompson, 50, died on October 9, 2016. The Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) praised him as an outstanding public servant and as a champion for criminal justice reform and a fair court system. She sent her deepest condolences to his family and to those who knew him.

The Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito) also noted the death and devastation caused by Hurricane Matthew across the Caribbean, particularly in Haiti, and across Florida, North Carolina, and the southeastern U.S. coast. She asked those assembled in the Chambers to remember all who those whose lives were lost.

Report for Int No 1011-A

Report of the Committee on Civil Service and Labor in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a 90-day transition period for displaced food service workers.

The Committee on Civil Service and Labor, to which the annexed amended proposed local law was referred on November 24, 2015 (Minutes, page 4147), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On October 11, 2016, the Committee on Civil Service and Labor, chaired by Council Member I. Daneek Miller, will hold a second hearing on Proposed Introduction No. 1011-A, A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a 90-day transition period for displaced food service workers. The Committee held a first hearing on a then Preconsidered version of the bill on November 23, 2015.

BACKGROUND

Worker retention laws and policies are designed to protect workers when there is a change in ownership of a business or a change in service contracts.¹ The Partnership for Working Families has stated, “Worker retention policies protect the welfare of working families, they provide a stable and knowledgeable workforce for contractors or business owners, and thus maintain the provision of reliable service to clientele.”² Worker retention provisions operate to help employees keep their jobs, sometimes for a transitional period of time, if there is a change in ownership of a business or a contract holder.³

This bill is designed to extend the protections already provided to displaced building service workers under Administrative Code § 22-505 (informally known as the Displaced Building Service Workers Act) to food service workers⁴ and grocery workers under Code § 22-507.⁵ Section 22-505 was enacted in 2002 after the events of 9/11 in order to protect building service workers in the City from unfair loss of employment in a market with a high rate of building contract turnover and to promote building safety and security by retaining knowledgeable staff. It provides for a 90-day retention period and continued employment of building service workers who may be displaced in the event of a change in ownership of a building or a change in a building service contract. § 22-505 has been enforced by the National Labor Relations Board as recently as August of 2015.⁶ The Grocery Worker Retention Act was passed last year.

New York City was not the first city to pass legislation for the retention of workers. In 1994, Washington, D.C., passed a worker retention law that covers contractors that employ 25 or more persons and perform food, janitorial, maintenance, or nonprofessional health care services. The D.C. legislation also expressly includes employees hired by a contractor as food service workers.⁷ The provisions of the D.C. law are very similar to the provisions of § 22-505, in that after a 90-day transition period, employees deemed satisfactory by the successor employer are to be retained. Several other jurisdictions also have put worker retention laws into effect, including the District of Columbia and the State of California; cities such as Philadelphia, PA, Providence, RI, New Haven, CT, and the California cities of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Long Beach, Berkeley, San Jose, Santa Cruz, San Leandro, Gardena, and Emeryville; and counties such as Los Angeles, CA, Santa Cruz, CA, and Westchester, NY.

This bill would require a 90-day retention period for food service workers in venues such as corporate cafeterias, arenas and cultural institutions when a food service contractor is terminated. After 90 days, the new contractor must evaluate the workers and shall retain them if they are deemed satisfactory.

Since the first hearing on this legislation, the bill has been amended to be a new section of the code, rather than an amendment to the section of the code for the Displaced Building Service Workers.

BILL SUMMARY

Proposed Int. No. 1011-A would, in the event of a change in a food service contract, require a successor contractor to retain the former contractor's food service workers for a 90-day transition period, after which time the successor contractor must evaluate the employees and offer them continued employment. This would apply to corporate cafeterias, arenas and cultural institutions, however, not to restaurants.

Subdivision a of the bill would be definitions, as follows:

Covered entity. The term "covered entity" would mean any person who enters into a food service contract for the provision of food service at premises located within the city.

Food service. The term "food service" would mean the on-site preparation, service and clean-up of food or beverages to persons.

Food service contract. The term "food service contract" would mean a contract for a term of at least 12 months between a covered entity and a food service contractor for the provision of food service that requires that:

- (i) the food service contractor provide all food service workers;
- (ii) the prices for food or beverages sold on the premises of the covered entity be subject to the review and agreement of the covered entity; and
- (iii) the food service contractor reports the gross receipts or gross sales generated pursuant to the contract to the covered entity.

Food service contractor. The term "food service contractor" would mean any person who enters into a food service contract to provide food service to a covered entity.

Food service worker. The term "food service worker" would mean any person who has been employed by a food service contractor to provide food service pursuant to a food service contract on a full or part-time basis for at least 90 days immediately preceding any transition in employment subject to this section, provided that such term does not include persons who are managerial, supervisory or confidential employees, or persons regularly scheduled to work fewer than eight hours per week.

Former food service contractor. The term "former food service contractor" would mean any person who has entered into a food service contract with a covered entity prior to a termination of such contract.

Person. The term "person" would mean any individual, proprietorship, partnership, joint venture, corporation, limited liability company, trust, association, or other entity that may employ persons or enter into service contracts, but it does not include the city, the state of New York, the federal government any other governmental entity, or any individual or entity managing real property for a governmental entity.

Successor food service contractor. The term "successor food service contractor" would mean any person who has entered into a food service contract with a covered entity after the termination of a substantially similar food service contract by the covered entity.

Subdivision b of the bill provides for the retention period's procedures. The first paragraph of this subdivision requires that no less than 15 calendar days before terminating any food service contract, a covered entity would be required to request the former food service contractor to provide to the successor food service contractor and the covered entity a full and accurate list containing the name, address, date of hire, and job category of each food service worker who provided the food service pursuant to such contract. The former food service contractor would then be required to provide such list within 72 hours of receipt of the request by the covered employer. At the same time that the former food service contractor provides such list, the former food service contractor would be required to post the list in a notice to the food service workers that also sets forth the rights provided by this section, in the same location and manner that other statutorily required notices to employees are posted at the affected premises. Such notice would be required to also be provided to the food service workers' collective bargaining representative, if any.

Paragraph 2 of such subdivision would require that, upon termination of a food service contract, the successor food service contractor would be required to retain those food service workers who provided the food service pursuant to such contract for a 90-day transition employment period.

The third paragraph would require allow for removal of workers during the retention period if at any time the successor food service contractor determines that fewer food service workers are required to perform the food service pursuant to such contract than had been performing such service under the terminated food service contract, such successor food service contractor shall retain the food service workers by seniority within job classification; provided, that during such 90-day transition period, the successor food service contractor shall maintain a preferential hiring list of those food service workers not retained at the sites who shall be given a right of first refusal to any jobs within their classifications that become available during that period.

The next paragraph would require that, except as provided in the previous paragraph of this subdivision, during such 90-day period the successor food service contractor would not be able to discharge without cause a food service worker retained pursuant to this section.

The fifth and final paragraph of the bill would require that at the end of the 90-day transition period, the successor food service contractor would be required to complete a written performance evaluation for each food service worker retained pursuant to this section. If a food service worker's performance during such 90-day period is deemed satisfactory, the successor food service contractor "shall" offer such food service worker continued employment under the terms and conditions established by the successor food service contractor.

Subdivision c of the bill pertains to remedies in case of violation of the law. The first paragraph for such section would require that a food service worker who has been discharged or not retained in violation of this section would be permitted to bring an action in supreme court against a successor food service contractor for violation of any obligation imposed pursuant to this section.

Paragraph 2 of subdivision c would state that the court would have authority to order reinstatement of any food service worker who has been discharged or not retained in violation of this section.

The third paragraph of this section would require that if the court finds that by reason of a violation of any obligation imposed pursuant to subdivision b of this section, a food service worker has been discharged or not retained in violation of this section, it shall award:

(a) Back pay for each day during which the violation continues, calculated at a rate of compensation not less than the higher of (i) the average regular rate of pay received by the food service worker during the last three years of the food service worker's employment in the same job category; or (ii) the final regular rate received by the food service worker while employed either under the terminated food service contract or under the food service contract with the successor food service contractor, regardless of whether such food service worker obtained an alternate source of income that was less than, equal to, or greater than the rate calculated pursuant to this subparagraph;

(b) The cost of benefits the successor food service contractor would have incurred for the food service worker under the successor food service contractor's benefit plan; and

(c) The food service worker's reasonable attorney's fees and costs.

The final paragraph of such subdivision would state that in any such action, the court would have authority to order the covered entity or former food service contractor to provide the successor food service contractor with the information required pursuant to subdivision b of this section.

Subdivision d of this section would pertain to collective bargaining. The provisions of this section would not apply to a successor food service contractor that, on or before the effective date of the commencement of food service by such successor food service contractor, enters into a collective bargaining agreement covering the food service workers or agrees to assume, or to be bound by, the collective bargaining agreement of the former food service contractor covering such food service workers, provided that such collective bargaining agreement provides terms and conditions regarding the discharge or laying off of employees.

The final section of the bill is the enactment clause. The clause provides that this local law takes effect immediately upon enactment into law.

THE COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF NEW YORK
FINANCE DIVISION

LATONIA MCKINNEY, DIRECTOR

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 1011-A
COMMITTEE: Civil Service and Labor

TITLE: A local law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to a 90-day transition period for displaced food service workers

SPONSOR(S): Council Members Rodriguez, Chin, Eugene, Lancman, Miller, Van Bramer, Levine, Dickens, Cabrera, Dromm, Reynoso, King, Kallos, Levin, Salamanca, Koslowitz, Menchaca, Cornegy, Espinal, Torres, Grodenchik, Lander, Palma, Rose, Richards, Crowley, Johnson, Williams, Cohen, Barron, and Ulrich

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: This legislation would provide for a 90-day transition period and continued employment for food service workers who may be displaced upon a change in building ownership or change in a food service contract. After the 90-day transition period, the successor food service contractor would be required to evaluate the employees and offer continued employment to those deemed satisfactory.

This legislation would require the former food service contractor to provide the new contractor with a list – within 72 hours of its request – of each employee’s name, address, date of hire, and employment classification. This list would also be posted in a notice to the food service workers that sets forth their rights, and should also be provided to the employees’ collective bargaining representative, if any.

The successor food service contractor would be required to retain each eligible employee for the transitional period and not discharge them without cause. If during the transition period the successor contractor determines it needs fewer employees than were required before, such successor employer would retain employees by seniority within each job classification. Further, the successor contractor would be required to maintain a preferential hiring list of the food service workers who were not retained and they would be offered any jobs within their classification that become available. At the end of the transition period, the successor contractor would be required to complete a written performance evaluation for each eligible employee, and if an employee’s performance was deemed satisfactory, the successor contractor should offer continued employment to the eligible food service worker.

There are no penalties for violation, but any food service worker who has been discharged or not retained in violation of this legislation may bring a court action against a former food service contractor for violation of any obligation imposed pursuant to this legislation. The court can reinstate any food service worker who may have been wrongfully discharged or not retained.

This legislation exempts successor food service contractors who enter into a collective bargaining agreement covering the eligible food service workers or who agree to assume, or be bound by, the contract of the predecessor food service contractor covering the eligible employees if that contract specifies the terms and conditions regarding the discharge or laying off of employees.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect immediately.

Report of the Committee on Finance

Report for Int No 1282

Report of the Committee on Finance in favor of approving and adopting a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to authorizing an increase in the amount to be expended annually in eight business improvement districts and two special assessment districts.

The Committee on Finance, to which the annexed proposed amended local law was referred on September 28, 2016 (Minutes, page 3209), respectfully

REPORTS:

On September 28, 2016, the Finance Committee adopted Resolution 1228 that set October 13, 2016 as the date to consider a local law that would increase the annual expenditures of eight Business Improvement Districts (“BIDs”) and two Special Assessment Districts (“SADs”)¹, collectively referred to herein as “the BIDs,” as of July 1, 2016. Today, the Committee will hear from all persons interested in the legislation, which would increase the amount to be expended annually in the ten BIDs.

These increases, which have been requested by the BIDs and approved by the respective District Management Associations, would result in a higher assessment on all properties currently subject to BID assessments as a result of the increase in the assessment rate.

Pursuant to §§25-410(b) and 25-416 of the Administrative Code, a BID may obtain an increase in its budget (i.e. the total amount allowed to be expended annually by the BID or improvements, services, maintenance, and operation) by means of the adoption of a local law amending the BID’s district plan. Such a local law may be adopted by the City Council after a determination that it is in the public interest to authorize such an increase in the maximum annual amount and that the tax and debt limits prescribed in §25-412 of the Administrative Code will not be exceeded. Notice of the public hearing to consider such a local law must be published in at least one newspaper having general circulation in the district specifying the time when, and the place where, the hearing will be held and stating the increase proposed in the maximum amount to be expended annually.

Although this is the only relevant legal requirement for the provision of notice, the Finance Committee Chair has informed the Department of Small Business Services that she desires written notices of the proposed increases and the hearing date to be mailed to property owners within the BIDs, and will only consider budget increases for those BIDs providing such additional notice. The Chair has requested that this procedure be followed with regard to the increases that are the subject of this local law.

The following BIDs have requested increases to their budgets, as indicated below:

Report for Int No. 552-A

Report of the Committee on General Welfare in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to the collection of data regarding sexual orientation and gender identity.

The Committee on General Welfare, to which the annexed amended proposed local law was referred on November 25, 2014 (Minutes, page 4155), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On October 11, 2016, Committee on General Welfare, chaired by Council Member Stephen Levin held a hearing on Int. No. 552-A, A Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to the collection of data related to sexual orientation and gender identity. The Committee passed the bill by a vote of six in the affirmation, zero in the negatives and zero abstentions. This was the second hearing on the bill, the first hearing was held on May 11, 2015, jointly with the Committee on Governmental Operations. At the hearing representatives from the Mayor's Office of Operations and the Mayor's Office of Immigration Affairs testified. Amendments were made to the bill after the hearing.

BACKGROUND

Demographic data provides an essential evidence base for the thoughtful development and evaluation of policies.¹ To improve the lives of individuals, policy and fiscal decisions should rely on data that gives lawmakers and others a real sense of the makeup of a particular community, where and how certain individuals live, and how their lives are changing.² It is in part through the collection and dissemination of data that communities can define themselves, identify inequities, challenge misconceptions, and gain access to valuable resources.³ Official statistics are numerical data-sets produced by governmental agencies mainly for administrative purposes, including the Census, crime figures, health data, income and employment rates, as well as those based on government-sponsored social surveys.⁴ Statistics provide quantitative or qualitative information on various areas across diverse populations, including economic and social development, living conditions, health, education and the environment. Accessible data can even serve as a public good, as it can be useful for policy decision-making, evaluations, and assessments.⁵

There is limited data available on the percentage of the population that identifies as lesbian, gay, bisexual and/or transgender (LGBT). Although the United States Census Bureau recently began collecting information on same-sex households and the number of such households that are composed of same-sex spouses, the census does not track sexual orientation.⁶ The most recent data from the Census Bureau's 2013 American Community Survey found that there are 54,515 same-sex households in New York, 45.5% of which are composed of same-sex spouses.⁷ A recent analysis of Gallup survey data provides the most detailed estimates to date of where people who identify as LGBT reside.⁸ According to the Gallup data, 4% of the population of the New York metro area identifies as LGBT.⁹

It has become apparent that there is a lack of particularized demographic data regarding these various sub-demographic groups. Specific, disaggregated demographic data is necessary in order for policymakers to accurately diagnose deficiencies and target solutions that address the concerns of all members LGBT population. The proposed legislation, discussed below, seeks to gather additional demographic data about the residents of New York by requiring City agencies to collect voluntary information about these communities. These efforts may enable City agencies to provide more appropriate and effective services to the targeted communities.

Int. No. 552-A

Int. No. 552-A would require the Department of Social Services, the Administration for Children's Services, the Department of Homeless Services, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the Department for the Aging, the Department of Youth and Community Development, the Department of Education, and any other agencies designated by the Mayor to provide to all persons served by the agency with a standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographic information survey that contains questions regarding sexual orientation, including questions as to heterosexual, lesbian, gay, bisexual or asexual status or other, with an option to write-in a response, and gender identity, including questions as to transgender, cisgender or intersex status or other, with an option to write-in a response. The survey would only be provided to individuals 14 years of age or older. The legislation would require the Mayor's Office of Operations (Operations) and the Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs (MOIA) to create the survey form and update it as necessary based on changing demographics. Since introduction, Int. No. 552-A was amended to include the provision of this standardized survey in order to capture data from various social services programs that disseminate forms that the City cannot amend due to State and Federal restrictions, which were not considered in the original version of the legislation.

Int. No. 552-A would also require Operations to conduct a review within six months after the effective date of the proposed local law, and annually thereafter, of all forms issued by the prescribed agencies and any other agencies designated by the mayor that: collect demographic information addressing the questions contained on the survey form, are completed by persons seeking services, and contain content and/or language in relation to collecting information that is within the administering city agency's authority to edit or amend.

The legislation would require Operations to ensure that when practicable the forms are updated to request responses to questions about sexual orientation and gender identity. Int. No. 552-A would also require Operations to submit to the Council within 60 days of the review a list of all such documents and indicate which will be updated. Int. No. 552-A would require all such documents to be amended to ask questions about sexual orientation and gender identity within five years of the date of the local law. Since introduction, Int. No. 552-A was amended to include the annual review of documents that are within agencies' authority to amend and the five-year timeframe.

No later than 60 days after the effective date of the local law, Int. No. 552-A would require Operations to submit to the Mayor and the Speaker of the Council a plan to provide a mandatory training program and develop a manual for agency staff on how to invite persons served by such agencies to complete the survey.

No later than six months after the effective date and annually thereafter, Int. No. 552-A would require Operations to submit to the Council and make publically available the total number of individuals who have identified their sexual orientation and gender identity, disaggregated with respect to each response option, agency, and program. Since introduction, Int. No. 552-A was amended to also include a requirement that no later than six months after the effective date and annually thereafter, each agency that provides the survey form pursuant to the local law would evaluate its provision of services in consideration of the data collected pursuant to this local law and submit a report to the Council on any new or modified services developed based on the data.

Int. No. 552-A would take effect on the same date as a local law of the city of New York for the year 2016 amending the New York city charter relating to the collection of demographic data regarding multiracial identification, as proposed in introduction number 251-A, takes effect.

It would also require the Office of Operations to conduct an annual review of all forms issued by the aforementioned agencies to check for necessary updates. In addition, within 18 months after the local law goes into effect, the Office of Operations would be required to make the data collected on the survey available on the Open Data Portal.

Lastly, each agency that provides the survey would be required to evaluate its provision of services based on the data collected and the Office of Operations would then submit to the Council a report on any new or modified services developed by any agencies based on such data.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect on the same date as the local law as proposed in Intro. No. 251-A takes effect.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2018

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY17	FY Succeeding Effective FY18	Full Fiscal Impact FY18
Expenditures	$0	$0	$0

IMPACT ON REVENUES: There would be no impact on revenues resulting from this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is anticipated that there would be no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because the Office of Operations and all the other agencies mentioned already collect demographic information and can use existing resources to implement the provisions of this local law.

A Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to the collection of data regarding sexual orientation and gender identity

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Legislative Findings. The Council finds that it is unclear how many individuals who identify themselves as lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and questioning (LGBTQ) receive services from various New York City agencies. It is the intent of the Council, therefore, to ensure that City agencies capture this information and utilize it to tailor programs to best serve the LGBTQ community. Accordingly, the Council finds that it is necessary for City agencies to issue forms to capture data on individuals' sexual orientation and gender identity. Since gender identity alone is not always an indicator of whether a person is transgender, cisgender, or intersex, the Council also finds that such forms should include questions to this effect. Although the data collected by City agencies may not initially present a fully accurate representation of New York City's LGBTQ and gender non-conforming communities, over time the normalization of the collection of such data will lead to more accurate statistics regarding these communities. As the stigma against the LGBTQ community gradually erodes, evidenced by the fact that the U.S. Census began collecting data on married same-sex households in 2010, individuals are increasingly willing to identify themselves as LGBTQ.

§ 2. Section 15 of chapter 1 of the New York city charter is amended by adding a new subdivision k to read as follows:

k. 1. The department of social services, the administration for children's services, the department of homeless services, the department of health and mental hygiene, the department for the aging, the department for youth and community development, the department of education and any other agencies designated by the mayor that directly or by contract collect demographic information via form documents from city residents seeking social services shall provide all persons seeking such services who are either at least 14 years old or identify as the heads of their own households with a standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographics information survey form that contains questions regarding sexual orientation, including heterosexual, lesbian, gay, bisexual or asexual status or other, with an option to write in a response and gender identity, including transgender, cisgender or intersex status or other, with an option to write in a response.

2. Such survey form shall be created by the office of operations and office of immigrant affairs and may be updated as deemed necessary by those agencies based on changing demographics.

3. No later than 60 days after the effective date of this local law, the office of operations shall submit to the mayor and the speaker of the city council a plan to provide a mandatory training program and develop a manual for agency staff on how to invite persons served by such agencies to complete the survey. Such training and manual shall include, but not be limited to, the following:

- (a) an overview of the categories of sexual orientation and gender identity;*
- (b) providing constituents the option of completing the survey in a private space and filling out any paperwork without oral guidance from city agency staff;*
- (c) explaining to constituents that completing the survey is voluntary;*

(d) explaining to constituents that any data collected from such survey will not be connected to the individual specifically; and

(e) discussions regarding addressing constituents by their self-identified gender.

4. Beginning no later than six months after the effective date of this local law, and annually thereafter, the office of operations shall conduct a review of all forms issued by the agencies described in paragraph 1 of this subdivision and any other agencies so designated by the mayor that: collect demographic information addressing the questions contained on the survey form, are completed by persons seeking services and contain content and/or language in relation to collecting such information that is within the administering city agency's authority to edit or amend. The office of operations shall submit to the council within 60 days of such review, a list of all forms reviewed and all forms eligible for updating, and for forms not eligible for updating an explanation of why such forms are not eligible for updating, and indicate which forms shall be updated. When practicable, when such forms are updated they shall request voluntary responses to questions about sexual orientation, including heterosexual, lesbian, gay, bisexual or asexual status, or other, and gender identity, including transgender, cisgender and intersex status or other. All forms identified as eligible for updating during the review required pursuant to this paragraph shall be updated to invite responses to questions about sexual orientation and gender identity no later than five years from the effective date of the local law that added this section. All forms not eligible for updating shall be provided in conjunction with the standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographics information survey form as established by subdivision k, paragraph 1 of this local law.

5. Beginning no later than 18 months after the effective date of this local law, and annually thereafter, the office of operations shall make available to the public data for the prior fiscal year that includes but is not limited to the total number of individuals who have identified their sexual orientation or gender identity on the survey form described in paragraph 1 of this subdivision and any forms updated pursuant to paragraph 4 of this subdivision, disaggregated by response option, agency and program. Such data shall be made available to the public through the single web portal provided for in section 23-502 of the administrative code.

6. Each agency that provides the survey form required pursuant to paragraph 1 of this subdivision shall evaluate its provision of services in consideration of the data collected pursuant to this local law and the office of operations shall submit to the council a report on any new or modified services developed by any agencies based on such data. Such report shall be submitted no earlier than 18 months after the effective date of the local law that added this paragraph.

7. No information that is otherwise required to be reported pursuant to this section shall be reported in a manner that would violate any applicable provision of federal, state or local law relating to the privacy of information respecting students and families serviced by the New York city department of education. If any category requested contains between 1 and 5, or allows another category to be narrowed to between 1 and 5, the number shall be replaced with a symbol.

§ 3. This local law takes effect on the same date as a local law of the city of New York for the year 2016 amending the New York city charter relating to the collection of demographic data regarding ancestry and languages spoken, as proposed in introduction number 251-A, takes effect.

Report for Int No. 251-A

Report of the Committee on Governmental Operations in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to the collection of demographic data regarding ancestry and languages spoken.

The Committee on Governmental Operations, to which the annexed amended proposed local law was referred on April 10, 2014 (Minutes, page 1100), respectfully

REPORTS:

INTRODUCTION

On October 11, 2016, the Committee on Governmental Operations, chaired by Council Member Benjamin Kallos, held a hearing on two bills and a resolution: Int. No. 251-A, A Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to the collection of demographic data regarding ancestry and languages spoken; Int. No. 551-A, A Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to the collection of demographic data regarding multiracial identification, and Res. No. 472, A Resolution calling on the state and federal governments to amend their official forms and databases to accommodate multiracial identification in all instances where racial identification is required. The Committee passed both bills and the resolution by a vote of five in the affirmation, zero in the negatives and zero abstentions. This was the second hearing on the bills and resolution; the first hearing was held on May 11, 2015, jointly with the Committee on General Welfare. At the hearing representatives from the Mayor's Office of Operations and the Mayor's Office of Immigration Affairs testified. Amendments were made to the bills after the hearing.

BACKGROUND

Demographic data provides an essential evidence base for the thoughtful development and evaluation of policies.¹ To improve the lives of individuals, policy and fiscal decisions should rely on data that gives lawmakers and others a real sense of the makeup of a particular community, where and how certain individuals live, and how their lives are changing.² It is in part through the collection and dissemination of data that communities can define themselves, identify inequities, challenge misconceptions, and gain access to valuable resources.³ Official statistics are numerical data-sets produced by governmental agencies mainly for administrative purposes, including the Census, crime figures, health data, income and employment rates, as well as those based on government-sponsored social surveys.⁴ Statistics provide quantitative or qualitative information on various areas across diverse populations, including economic and social development, living conditions, health, education and the environment. Accessible data can even serve as a public good, as it can be useful for policy decision-making, evaluations, and assessments.⁵

It has become apparent that there is a lack of particularized demographic data regarding these various sub-demographic groups. Specific, disaggregated demographic data is necessary in order for policymakers to accurately diagnose deficiencies and target solutions that address the concerns of all members of various ethnic groups, multiracial and lesbian, gay, bisexual and/or transgender (LGBT) populations. The proposed legislation, discussed below, seeks to gather additional demographic data about the residents of New York by requiring City agencies to collect voluntary information about these communities. These efforts may enable City agencies to provide more appropriate and effective services to the targeted communities.

Int. No. 251-A

Int. No. 251-A would require the Department of Social Services, the Administration for Children's Services, the Department of Homeless Services, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the Department for the Aging, the Department of Youth and Community Development, the Department of Education, and any other agencies designated by the Mayor to provide to all persons served by the agency with a standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographic information survey that contains questions regarding ancestry and languages spoken. The legislation would require the Mayor's Office of Operations (Operations) and the Mayor's Office of Immigrant Affairs (MOIA) to create the survey form and update it as necessary based on changing demographics. Since introduction, Int. No. 251-A was amended to include the provision of this standardized survey in order to capture data from various social services programs that disseminate forms that the City cannot amend due to State and Federal restrictions, which were not considered in the original version of the legislation.

Int. No. 251-A would also require Operations to conduct a review within six months after the effective date of the proposed local law and annually thereafter of all forms issued by the prescribed agencies and any other agencies designated by the mayor that: collect demographic information addressing the questions contained on the survey form, are completed by persons seeking services, and contain content and/or language in relation to collecting information that is within the administering city agency's authority to edit or amend. The legislation would require Operations to ensure that when practicable the forms are updated to request responses to questions about ancestry and languages spoken. Int. No. 251-A would also require Operations to submit to the Council within 60 days of the review a list of all such documents and indicate which will be updated. Int. No. 251-A would require all such documents to be amended to ask questions about ancestry and languages spoken within five years of the date of the local law. Since introduction, Int. No. 251-A was amended to include the annual review of documents that are within agencies' authority to amend and the five-year timeframe.

No later than six months after the effective date and annually thereafter, Int. No. 251-A would require Operations to submit to the Council and make publically available the total number of individuals who have identified their ancestry and languages spoken, disaggregated with respect to each response option, agency, and program. Since introduction, Int. No. 251-A was amended to also include a requirement that no later than six months after the effective date and annually thereafter, each agency that provides the survey form pursuant to the local law would evaluate its provision of services in consideration of the data collected pursuant to this local law and submit a report to the Council on any new or modified services developed based on the data.

Int. No. 251-A previously only required the collection of demographic data on Asian Pacific American sub-demographic groups. The legislation was amended to include questions regarding ancestry and languages spoken more broadly and requires, at a minimum, the collection of the 30 largest ancestry groups and languages spoken in the City of New York based on data from the United States Census Bureau. Int. No. 251-A also requires the data collection to include an "other" options to allow respondents to write-in a response. Int. No. 251-A would require the categories included to be updated as the top 30 largest ancestry groups reflected by the United States Census changes.

Int. No. 251-A would take effect 180 days after enactment.

Int. No. 551-A

Int. No. 551-A would require the Department of Social Services, the Administration for Children's Services, the Department of Homeless Services, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, the Department for the Aging, the Department of Youth and Community Development, the Department of Education, and any other agencies designated by the Mayor to provide to all persons served by the agency with a standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographic information survey that contains an option for multiracial ancestry or ethnic origin. The legislation would require Operations and MOIA to create the survey form and update it as necessary based on changing demographics. Since introduction, Int. No. 551-A was amended to include the provision of this standardized survey in order to capture data from various social services programs that disseminate forms that the City cannot amend due to State and Federal restrictions, which were not considered in the original version of the legislation.

Int. No. 551-A would also require Operations to conduct a review within six months after the effective date of the proposed local law and annually thereafter of all forms issued by the prescribed agencies and any other agencies designated by the mayor that: collect demographic information addressing the questions contained on the survey form, are completed by persons seeking services, and contain content and/or language in relation to collecting information that is within the administering city agency's authority to edit or amend. The legislation would require Operations to ensure that when practicable the forms are updated to request responses to questions about multiracial ancestry or ethnic origin. Int. No. 551-A would also require Operations to submit to the Council within 60 days of the review a list of all such documents and indicate which will be updated. Int. No. 551-A would require all such documents to be amended to ask questions about multiracial ancestry or ethnic origin within five years of the date of the local law. Since introduction, Int. No. 551-A was amended to include the annual review of documents that are within agencies' authority to amend and the five-year timeframe.

No later than six months after the effective date and annually thereafter, Int. No. 551-A would require Operations to submit to the Council and make publically available the total number of individuals who have identified their multiracial ancestry or ethnic origin, disaggregated with respect to each response option, agency, and program. Since introduction, Int. No. 551-A was amended to also include a requirement that no later than six months after the effective date and annually thereafter, each agency that provides the survey form pursuant to the local law would evaluate its provision of services in consideration of the data collected pursuant to this local law and submit a report to the Council on any new or modified services developed based on the data.

Int. No. 551-A would take effect on the same date as a local law of the city of New York for the year 2016 amending the New York city charter relating to the collection of demographic data regarding ancestry and languages spoken, as proposed in introduction number 251-A, takes effect.

Res. No. 472

Resolution Number 472 calls upon state and federal governments to amend their official forms and databases to allow for the multiracial identification for individuals in all circumstances where racial identification is required.

As discussed above, the data show that the United States is becoming a more integrated, multiracial society, with a notable increase in the number of individuals identifying as more than one race. Despite evidence of this growing population, many state and federal agency documents do not provide for an option for multiracial identification on form documents. For example, the Federal Bureau of Investigation only allows an individual who has been fingerprinted to identify as one of the five categories – Asian or Pacific Islander, Black, American Indian or Alaskan Native, Unknown, and White. Such a limited recognition of race where statistical data clearly show a growing segment of the population should be addressed. In light of this information, the Council calls for such efforts to be made and changes implemented on form documents at the state and federal levels.

A Local Law to amend the New York city charter, in relation to the collection of demographic data regarding ancestry and languages spoken

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Legislative findings. New York City's diversity is one of its primary strengths, but existing data often do not provide City government and others with full information about the demographics of the individuals served by City agencies. Detailed information about the ancestral/ethnic and linguistic makeup of an agency's client population can help agencies and community organizations to make ongoing adjustments to their outreach and service delivery models. This legislation will help the City and its partners to better understand and serve residents of all backgrounds and identities.

§ 2. Section 15 of chapter 1 of the New York city charter is amended by adding a new subdivision i to read as follows:

i. 1. The department of social services, the administration for children's services, the department of homeless services, the department of health and mental hygiene, the department for the aging, the department for youth and community development, the department of education and any other agencies designated by the mayor that directly or by contract collect demographic information via form documents from city residents seeking social services shall provide all persons seeking such services with a standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographics information survey form that contains questions regarding ancestry and languages spoken.

2. The questions shall include options allowing respondents to select from:

(a) at least the top 30 largest ancestry groups and languages spoken in the city of New York based on data from the United States census bureau; and

(b) "other," with an option to write in a response.

3. Such survey form shall be created by the office of operations and office of immigrant affairs and may be updated as deemed necessary by those agencies based on changing demographics.

4. Beginning no later than six months after the effective date of this local law, and annually thereafter, the office of operations shall conduct a review of all forms issued by the agencies described in paragraph 1 of this subdivision and any other agencies so designated by the mayor that: collect demographic information addressing the questions contained on the survey form, are completed by persons seeking services and contain content and/or language in relation to collecting such information that is within the administering city agency's authority to edit or amend. The office of operations shall submit to the council, within 60 days of such review, a list of all forms reviewed and all forms eligible for updating, and for forms not eligible for updating an explanation of why such forms are not eligible for updating, and indicate which forms shall be updated. When practicable, when such forms are updated they shall request voluntary responses to questions about ancestry and languages spoken. All forms identified as eligible for updating during the review required pursuant to this paragraph shall be updated to invite responses to questions about ancestry and languages spoken no later than five years from the effective date of the local law that added this section. All forms not eligible for updating shall be provided in conjunction with the standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographics information survey form as established by subdivision i, paragraph 1 of this local law.

5. Beginning no later than 18 months after the effective date of this local law, and annually thereafter, the office of operations shall make available to the public data for the prior fiscal year that includes but is not limited to the total number of individuals who have identified their ancestry or languages spoken on the survey form described in paragraph 1 of this subdivision and any forms updated pursuant to paragraph 4 of this subdivision, disaggregated by response option, agency and program. Such data shall be made available to the public through the single web portal provided for in section 23-502 of the administrative code.

6. Each agency that provides the survey form required pursuant to paragraph 1 of this subdivision shall evaluate its provision of services in consideration of the data collected pursuant to this local law and the office of operations shall submit to the council a report on any new or modified services developed by any agencies based on such data. Such report shall be submitted no earlier than 18 months after the effective date of the local law that added this paragraph.

7. No information that is otherwise required to be reported pursuant to this section shall be reported in a manner that would violate any applicable provision of federal, state or local law relating to the privacy of information respecting students and families serviced by the New York city department of education. If any category requested contains between 1 and 5, or allows another category to be narrowed to between 1 and 5, the number shall be replaced with a symbol.

§ 3. This local law takes effect 180 days after it becomes law.

j. 1. The department of social services, the administration for children's services, the department of homeless services, the department of health and mental hygiene, the department for the aging, the department for youth and community development, the department of education and any other agencies designated by the mayor that directly or by contract collect demographic information via form documents from city residents seeking social services shall provide all persons seeking such services with a standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographic information survey form that contains an option for multiracial ancestry or ethnic origin. Such survey form shall be created by the office of operations and office of immigrant affairs and may be updated as deemed necessary by those agencies based on changing demographics.

2. Beginning no later than six months after the effective date of this local law, and annually thereafter, the office of operations shall conduct a review of all forms issued by the agencies described in paragraph 1 of this subdivision and any other agencies so designated by the mayor that: collect demographic information addressing the questions contained on the survey form, are completed by persons seeking services and contain content and/or language in relation to collecting such information that is within the administering city agency's authority to edit or amend. The office of operations shall submit to the council, within 60 days of such review, a list of all forms reviewed and all forms eligible for updating, and for forms not eligible for updating an explanation of why such forms are not eligible for updating, and indicate which forms shall be updated. When practicable, the office of operations shall ensure that when such forms are updated they shall request voluntary responses to questions about multiracial ancestry or ethnic origin. All forms identified as eligible for updating during the review required pursuant to this paragraph shall be updated to invite responses to questions about multiracial ancestry or ethnic origin no later than five years from the effective date of the local law that added this section. All forms not eligible for updating shall be provided in conjunction with the standardized, anonymous and voluntary demographics information survey form as established by subdivision j, paragraph 1 of this local law.

3. Beginning no later than 18 months after the effective date of this local law, and annually thereafter, the office of operations shall make available to the public data for the prior fiscal year that includes but is not limited to the total number of individuals who have identified their multiracial ancestry or ethnic origin on the survey form described in paragraph 1 of this subdivision and any forms updated pursuant to paragraph 4 of this subdivision, disaggregated by response option, agency and program. Such data shall be made available to the public through the single web portal provided for in section 23-502 of the administrative code.

Each agency that provides the survey form required pursuant to paragraph 1 of this subdivision shall evaluate its provision of services in consideration of the data collected pursuant to this local law and the office of operations shall submit to the council a report on any new or modified services developed by any agencies based on such data. Such report shall be submitted no earlier than 18 months after the effective date of the local law that added this paragraph.

5. Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings

Report for Int No. 1160

Report of the Committee on Housing and Buildings in favor of approving and adopting a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the installation of sub-meters in certain tenant spaces.

The Committee on Housing and Buildings, to which the annexed proposed local law was referred on April 20, 2016 (Minutes, page 1091), respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction

On October 13, 2016, the Committee on Housing and Buildings, chaired by Council Member Jumaane D. Williams, will hold a hearing to consider Int. No. 1160, Proposed Int. No. 1163-A, and Int. No. 1165.

The Committee previously considered these bills on June 22, 2016. The Committee received testimony from representatives of the Department of Buildings (DOB), members of the real estate industry, energy conservation advocates and other interested members of the public.

Int. No. 1160

Currently, by January 1, 2025, owners of buildings 50,000 gross square feet or larger are required to have installed electrical sub-meters in all tenant spaces which are 10,000 gross square feet or larger (other than dwelling units). Int. No. 1160 would expand the requirements to owners of buildings 25,000 gross square feet or larger and to tenant spaces (other than dwelling units) 5,000 gross square feet or larger.

Section one of Int. No. 1160 would amend section 28-311.2 of the New York City Administrative Code (the Code). Section 28-311.2 contains definitions. Int. No. 1160 would amend the definition of covered building by reducing the size threshold for such buildings from 50,000 gross square feet to 25,000 gross square feet. It would also amend the definition of covered tenant space to reduce the size threshold for such space from 10,000 gross square feet to 5,000 gross square feet.

Section two of Int. No. 1160 would make various technical edits to section 28-311.3 of the code.

Section three of Int. No. 1160 would make various technical edits to section 28-311.5 of the code.

Section four of Int. No. 1160 would make various technical edits to section 28-315.3.1 of the code.

Section five of Int. No. 1160 contains the enactment clause and provides that the law takes effect immediately.

Proposed Int. No. 1163-A

Currently, owners of buildings 50,000 gross square feet or larger are required to “benchmark” annually, which means that they report descriptive information about their building, as well as the total energy usage for such building, to the City for comparison against other buildings of a similar type. The descriptive building information (square footage, number of stoves, etc.) only has to be uploaded once and is thereafter saved in the facility profile. Such information only needs to be updated if there is a substantive change (square footage, borough-block-lot number, etc.).

Proposed Int. No. 1163-A bill would expand the City’s benchmarking requirement to buildings 25,000 gross square feet or larger and require the Department of Buildings to establish a system to assist such buildings in meeting their benchmarking requirements.

Section one of Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would amend section 28-309.2 of the Code. Section 28-309.2 contains definitions. Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would amend the definition of “city building” to reduce the size threshold for exclusion from such definition from 50,000 gross square feet to 25,000 gross square feet for buildings which participate in programs administered by the Department of Housing Preservation and Development. Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would also amend the definition of covered building by reducing the size threshold for such buildings from 50,000 gross square feet to 25,000 gross square feet.

Section two of Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would amend section 28-309.4. Section 28-309.4 requires owners of covered buildings to annually benchmark their buildings beginning May 1, 2011. Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would require the first mandatory benchmark for a covered building, other than a city building, which is less than 50,000 gross square feet to be completed on or before May 1 of the first year that commences after DOB determines and sets forth in a rule that the utility company providing energy to such building will, upon request of an owner, directly upload information necessary to benchmark such buildings.¹

Section two of Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would also amend section 28-309.4.1 and repeal sections 28-309.4.1.1, 28-309.4.1.2, 28-309.4.1.3 and 28-309.4.1. These sections currently lay out the obligation of owners of covered buildings to request, and include in their benchmarking reports, information from tenants about any separately metered energy use. Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would instead require owners of covered buildings to obtain such information from the utility. If the utility does not have a program to provide such information, the owner would then be required to make reasonable efforts to obtain such information from tenants. Tenants would have an obligation to provide such information.

Section two of Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would also amend section 28-309.4.2 of the Code. Section 28-309.4.2 requires owners to retain certain documents. The proposed legislation would require that where energy use within separately metered tenant spaces is omitted, records would have to be maintained documenting the owner's efforts to obtain such information.

Section two of Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would also amend section 28-309.4.3 of the code. Section 28-309.4.3 makes it a lesser violation for owners of covered buildings to fail to benchmark.² The proposed legislation would allow DOB to reject a benchmarking report which is substantially inaccurate or incomplete and to hold the owner who submitted such report liable for a violation as if no benchmarking had been performed. It would also add an exception to section 28-309.4.3, barring the imposition of a civil penalty on an owner of a covered building for a violation issued under such section where (i) such covered building is less than 50,000 gross square feet, (ii) such owner requested benchmarking assistance in connection with such covered building at least 60 days before the due date of the benchmarking report and (iii) such owner corrects such violation within 60 days after the date of the notice of violation.

Section three of Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would make various technical amendments to section 28-309.5.1 of the code.

Section four of the proposed legislation would make various technical amendments to section 28-309.8 of the code.

Section five of the proposed legislation would amend section 28-309.9 of the code. Section 28-309.9 required DOB to issue a report on benchmarking by December 21st of 2011, 2012, and 2013. Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would require such report to be issued annually.

Section six of Proposed Int. No. 1163-A would add a new section 28-309.11, entitled "benchmarking assistance," to article 309 of the code. Article 309 outlines the City's benchmarking requirements. New section 28-309.11 would require DOB to establish a system to receive and respond to requests from owners for assistance with respect to fulfilling their benchmarking requirements.³ Such assistance may include, but need not be limited to, trainings, the provision of reference guides, and a publicized telephone number and email address to receive direct questions. In addition, the annual notice required by section 28-309.7 would now have to notify covered building owners that such assistance is available and describe how such assistance can be obtained.

Section seven of Proposed Int. No. 1163-A contains the enactment clause and provides that the law take effect immediately.

Changes to Proposed Int. No. 1163-A

In addition to various technical edits, Proposed Int. No. 1163-A has been amended as follows:

- The date of the first benchmarking due for covered buildings between 25,000 and 50,000 gross square feet has been moved from May 1, 2018 to May 1st of the first year that commences after DOB determines and sets forth in a rule that the utility company providing energy to such buildings will, upon request of an owner, directly upload information necessary to benchmark such buildings.
- The type of assistance which the Administration will provide has been expanded to include trainings, reference guides and a publicized telephone number and email address to receive direct questions.

² Under existing law, there are no civil penalties for lesser violations if the owner certifies correction of the violation within 30 days.

³ It is the Council's intention that the benchmarking assistance system maintain a consumer driven focus, similar to that of programs like the Health and Human Services Accelerator.

- The annual notice sent to owners of covered building must now include a notice that benchmarking assistance is available and describe how such assistance can be obtained.
- An exception has been added that would exempt owners of covered buildings between 25,000 and 50,000 gross square feet from civil penalties if they requested benchmarking assistance at least 60 days before the relevant benchmarking report was due and they file such report within at least 60 days of receiving a notice of violation.

Int. No. 1165

Currently, by January 1, 2025, owners of building 50,000 gross square feet or larger are required to upgrade the lighting systems in their buildings so that they are in compliance with the standards for new systems set forth in the New York city energy conservation code. This bill would expand the upgrade requirements to owners of buildings 25,000 gross square feet or larger.

Section one of Int. No. 1165 would amend section 28-310.2 of the Code. Section 28.310.2 contains definitions. Int. No. 1165 would amend the definition of covered building by reducing the size threshold for such buildings from 50,000 gross square feet to 25,000 gross square feet. It would also delete the definition of upgrade.

Section two of Int. No. 1165 would make various technical edits to section 28-310.3 of the code.

Section three of Int. No. 1165 would make various technical edits to section 28-315.3.1.

Section four of Int. No. 1165 contains the enactment clause and provides that the law take effect immediately.

COMMITTEE: Housing and Buildings

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to the installation of sub-meters in certain tenant spaces.

SPONSOR(S): Council Members Constantinides and Richards (in conjunction with the Mayor)

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Currently, by January 1, 2025, owners of buildings 50,000 gross square feet or larger are required to have installed electrical sub-meters in all tenant spaces which are 10,000 gross square feet or larger (other than dwelling units). The proposed bill would expand the requirements to owners of buildings 25,000 gross square feet or larger and to tenant spaces (other than dwelling units) 5,000 gross square feet or larger. Additionally, building owners would be required to certify and report compliance to the Department of Buildings (“DOB”).

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect immediately.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2018

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY17	FY Succeeding Effective FY18	Full Fiscal Impact FY18

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation. While DOB may impose a fee for filing and processing compliance reports, these fees are not mandated under this legislation, and thus not assumed in this cost estimate.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is anticipated that there would be no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because existing resources would be used by the DOB to implement the provisions of this local law and building owners would bear any costs of installing electrical sub-meters in accordance with the legislation.

PROPOSED INTRO. NO: 1163-A

COMMITTEE: Housing and Buildings

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to expanding the list of buildings required to be benchmarked for energy and water efficiency.

SPONSOR(S): Council Members Garodnick, Richards, Johnson, Constantinides, Chin and Rosenthal (in conjunction with the Mayor)

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Currently, owners of buildings 50,000 gross square feet or larger (and of buildings 10,000 gross square feet or larger if the city pays the annual energy bills or owns the building) are required to “benchmark” annually. Benchmarking involves reporting descriptive information about a building as well as the total energy and water usage for such building to the City so that the City can compare this usage against other buildings of a similar type.

The proposed legislation would expand the City’s benchmarking requirement to owners of buildings 25,000 gross square feet or larger. It would also require the Department of Buildings to establish a system to assist such buildings in meeting their benchmarking requirements.

The bill would require the first mandatory benchmark for the expanded list of buildings to be completed on or before May 1 of the first year that commences after DOB determines and sets forth in a rule that the utility company providing energy to such building will, upon request of an owner, directly upload information necessary to benchmark such buildings. The proposed legislation would allow the Department of Buildings (“DOB”) to reject a benchmarking report which is substantially inaccurate or incomplete and to hold the owner who submitted such report liable for a violation subject to a civil penalty as if no benchmarking had been performed. It would also exempt owners of covered buildings between 25,000 and 50,000 gross square feet from civil penalties for a violation for failure to benchmark where such owners (1) requested benchmarking assistance from the City at least 60 days before the relevant benchmarking report was due and (2) filed the benchmarking report within at least 60 days of receiving the notice of violation.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect immediately.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2018

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY17	FY Succeeding Effective FY18	Full Fiscal Impact FY18

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation. Although the bill would allow DOB to issue a civil penalty for failure to submit accurate and complete benchmarking data, this estimate assumes owners of covered buildings would fully comply with the provisions of this legislation.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is anticipated that there would be minimal to no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because existing resources would be used to implement the provisions of this local law with respect to City-owned buildings and enforcement.

By Council Member Garodnick, Richards, Johnson, Constantinides, Chin, Rosenthal, Kallos and Barron (in conjunction with the Mayor).

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to expanding the list of buildings required to be benchmarked for energy and water efficiency

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. The definitions of “city building” and “covered building” set forth in section 28-309.2 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 84 for the year 2009, are amended to read as follows:

CITY BUILDING. A building that is more than 10,000 gross square feet, as it appears in the records of the department of finance, that is owned by the city or for which the city regularly directly pays all [or part] of the annual energy bills, provided that two or more buildings on the same tax lot shall be deemed to be one building.

Exception: The term “city building” shall not include:

1. [Any building not owned by the city in which the city is a tenant and for which the city does not pay all the energy bills;]
- [2.] Any building owned by the city that participates in the tenant interim lease apartment purchase program; or
- [3.] 2. Any building owned by the city that (i) is [50,000] 25,000 gross square feet or less, as it appears in the records of the department of finance, and (ii) participates in a program administered by the department of housing preservation and development.

COVERED BUILDING. As it appears in the records of the department of finance (i) a building that exceeds [50,000] 25,000 gross square feet, (ii) two or more buildings on the same tax lot that together exceed 100,000 gross square feet, [or] (iii) two or more buildings held in the condominium form of ownership that are governed by the same board of managers and that together exceed 100,000 gross square feet, or (iv) a city building.

[Exception:] Exceptions: The term “covered building” shall not include:

1. [Any building that is a city building.
2. Any building that is owned by the city.] Any building owned by the city that participates in the tenant interim lease apartment purchase program.
- [3.] 2. Real property classified as class one pursuant to subdivision one of section 1802 of the real property tax law.
3. Real property, not more than three stories, consisting of a series of attached, detached or semi-detached dwellings, for which ownership and the responsibility for maintenance of the HVAC systems and hot water heating systems is held by each individual dwelling unit owner, and with no HVAC system or hot water heating system in the series serving more than two dwelling units, as certified by a registered design professional to the department.

§ 2. Section 28-309.4 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 84 for the year 2009, is amended to read as follows:

§ 28-309.4 Benchmarking required for covered buildings other than city buildings. The owner of a covered building, other than a city building, shall annually benchmark such covered building no later than May 1, 2011, and no later than every May [first] 1 thereafter. Benchmarking of water use shall not be required unless the building was equipped with automatic meter reading equipment by the department of environmental protection for the entirety of the previous calendar year. The owner or the owner’s representative performing the benchmarking shall consult with the operating staff of the building, as appropriate. Information submitted to the benchmarking tool must be accurate and complete.

Exception: The first mandatory benchmarking for a covered building, other than a city building, that (i) does not exceed 50,000 gross square feet, (ii) is not one of two or more buildings on the same tax lot that together exceed 100,000 gross square feet and (iii) is not one of two or more buildings held in the condominium form of ownership that are governed by the same board of managers and that together exceed 100,000 gross square feet, shall be completed on or before May 1 of the first year that commences after the department determines and sets forth in a rule that the utility company providing energy to such buildings will, upon request of an owner, directly upload information necessary to benchmark such buildings.

§ 28-309.4.1 Obligation to [request and to report information] report energy use for all utility accounts and addresses connected to the building. [Where a unit or other space in a covered building, other than a dwelling unit, is occupied by a tenant and such unit or space is separately metered by a utility company, the owner of such building shall request from such tenant information relating to such tenant’s separately metered energy use for the previous calendar year and such tenant shall report such information to such owner.] The owner shall submit information to the benchmarking tool for all utility accounts and addresses connected to the building, including those for separately metered tenant spaces. The owner shall obtain information for separately metered tenant spaces from the utility. If the utility does not have a program to provide such information, the owner shall make reasonable efforts to obtain such information from the tenant. Tenants shall have the obligation to provide such information.

[§ 28-309.4.1.1 Owner solicitation of tenant information. Such owner shall request information relating to such tenant's separately metered energy use for the previous calendar year no earlier than

January first and no later than January thirty-first of any year in which the owner is required to benchmark such building. The office of long-term planning and sustainability may require that such owner provide such tenant with a form designated by the office of long-term planning and sustainability to report such information.]

[§ 28–309.4.1.2 Tenant reporting of information. Such tenant shall report information relating to such tenant's separately metered energy use for the previous calendar year no later than February fifteenth of any year in which the owner is required to benchmark such building. Such information shall be reported in a form and manner determined by the office of long-term planning and sustainability.]

[§ 28–309.4.1.3 Provision of information prior to vacating a unit or other space. Where such owner receives notice that such tenant intends to vacate such unit or other space before reporting information in accordance with sections 28–309.4.1 and 28–309.4.1.2, such owner shall request information relating to such tenant's energy use for any period of occupancy relevant to such owner's obligation to benchmark. Any such tenant shall report such information to the owner of such building prior to vacating such unit or other space or, if such information is not available prior to vacating such unit or other space, as soon as practicable thereafter, regardless of whether such owner has requested information pursuant to this section. Such information shall be reported in a form and manner determined by the office of long-term planning and sustainability.]

[§28–309.4.1.4 Continuing obligation to benchmark. The failure of any or all tenants to report the information required by sections 28–309.4.1, 28–309.4.1.2, and 28–309.4.1.3 to the owner shall not relieve such owner of the obligation to benchmark pursuant to this article, provided that such owner shall not be required to benchmark such information not reported by a tenant unless otherwise available to such owner.]

§ 28-309.4.2 Preservation of documents, inspection, and audit. [Owners] An owner of a covered [buildings] building shall maintain such records as the department determines are necessary for carrying out the purposes of this article, including but not limited to energy and water bills and reports or forms received from utilities and tenants. Where energy use within separately metered tenant spaces is omitted, records shall be maintained documenting the owner's efforts to obtain such information. [Such] All records shall be preserved for a period of three years, provided that the commissioner may consent to their destruction within that period or may require that such records be preserved longer than such period. At the request of the department, such records shall be made available for inspection and audit by the department at the place of business of the owner or at the offices of the department during normal business hours.

§ 28–309.4.3 Violations. It shall be unlawful for the owner of a covered building to fail to benchmark pursuant to section 28–309.4. The commissioner shall classify such violation as a lesser violation. If, upon audit of a benchmarking report, the department finds that information submitted to the benchmarking tool was substantially inaccurate or incomplete, the department may reject the purported benchmarking and the owner shall be liable for a violation of section 28-309.4 as if no benchmarking had been performed.

Exception: Notwithstanding section 28-204.2, no civil penalty shall be imposed on the owner of a covered building for a violation of this section for such covered building if:

1. Such covered building (i) does not exceed 50,000 gross square feet, (ii) is not two or more buildings on the same tax lot that together exceed 100,000 gross square feet, (iii) is not two or more buildings held in the condominium form of ownership that are governed by the same board of managers and that together exceed 100,000 gross square feet, and (iv) is not a city building;

2. Such owner requested, from the department or another agency designated pursuant to section 28-309.11, benchmarking assistance in connection with such building, and such request was made at least 60 days before the due date of the benchmarking report for which such violation was issued; and
3. Such owner corrects such violation within 60 days after the date of the notice of such violation.

§ 3. Section 28-309.5.1 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as added by local law number 84 for the year 2009, is amended to read as follows:

The office of long-term planning and sustainability shall encourage and facilitate any utility company or any other source authorized by the office of long-term planning and sustainability to upload directly to the benchmarking tool, as soon as practicable, information necessary to benchmark a building. [Where information is uploaded directly to the benchmarking tool by a utility company or other authorized source, owners and tenants shall not be obligated to request and report such information pursuant to section 28-309.4.1.]

Exception: Ratings or scores generated by the benchmarking tool for a covered building that contains a data center, television studio, and/or trading floor that together exceed ten percent of the gross square footage of any such building shall not be disclosed until the office of long-term planning and sustainability determines that the benchmarking tool can make adequate adjustments for such facilities. When the office of long-term planning and sustainability determines that the benchmarking tool can make such adjustments, it shall report such determination to the mayor and the speaker of the city council. Until such determination is made, the office of long-term planning and sustainability shall report biennially to the mayor and the speaker of the city council that the benchmarking tool is unable to make such adjustments.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

INTRO. NO: 1165

COMMITTEE: Housing and Buildings

TITLE: A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to upgrading lighting systems in certain buildings.

SPONSOR(S): Council Members Richards, Constantinides and Chin (in conjunction with the Mayor)

SUMMARY OF LEGISLATION: Currently, by January 1, 2025, owners of building 50,000 gross square feet or larger are required to upgrade the lighting systems in their buildings so that they are in compliance with the standards for new systems set forth in the New York City energy conservation code. This bill would expand the upgrade requirements to owners of buildings 25,000 gross square feet or larger. Additionally, building owners would be required to certify and report compliance to the Department of Buildings (“DOB”).

The legislation would exempt buildings where the lighting system is in compliance with the standards outlined in the New York City energy conservation code, residential buildings classified in occupancy groups R-2 or R-3 and places of worship.

EFFECTIVE DATE: This local law would take effect immediately.

FISCAL YEAR IN WHICH FULL FISCAL IMPACT ANTICIPATED: Fiscal 2018

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT:

	Effective FY17	FY Succeeding Effective FY18	Full Fiscal Impact FY18

IMPACT ON REVENUES: It is estimated that there would be no impact on revenues resulting from the enactment of this legislation. While DOB may impose a fee for filing and review of compliance reports, these fees are not mandated under this legislation, and thus not assumed in this cost estimate.

IMPACT ON EXPENDITURES: It is anticipated that there would be no impact on expenditures resulting from the enactment of this legislation because existing resources would be used by the DOB to implement the provisions of this local law and building owners would bear any costs of upgrading lighting systems in accordance with the legislation.

SOURCE OF FUNDS TO COVER ESTIMATED COSTS: Not applicable.

The Council finds that the present status of the Exemption Area tends to impair or arrest the sound growth and development of the City of New York and that a designation of the Project as an Urban Development Action Area Project is consistent with the policy and purposes stated in Section 691 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council waives the area designation requirement pursuant to Section 693 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council waives the requirements of Sections 197-c and 197-d of the New York City Charter pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law.

The Council approves the Project as an Urban Development Action Area Project pursuant to Section 694 of the General Municipal Law.

The Project shall be developed in a manner consistent with the Project Summary that HPD has submitted to the Council, a copy of which is attached hereto.

The exemption of the Project from real property taxes pursuant to Section 696 of the General Municipal Law is approved as follows:

All of the value of the buildings, structures, and other improvements situated on the Exemption Area shall be exempt from local and municipal real property taxation, other than assessments for local improvements and land value, for a period of twenty years, during the last ten years of which such exemption shall decrease in equal annual decrements. Such exemption shall commence on January 1st or July 1st on the later of date after Sponsor acquires the Exemption Area or enters into an enforcement mortgage with HPD. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no exemption shall be granted hereunder if the cost of such rehabilitation is less than the assessed value of such building as determined in the tax year immediately preceding the grant of the tax exemption hereunder.
- b. The tax exemption granted hereunder shall terminate with respect to all or any portion of the Exemption Area if HPD determines that such real property has not been, or is not being, developed, used, and/or operated in compliance with the requirements of all applicable agreements made by the Sponsor or the owner of such real property with, or for the benefit of, the City of New York or HUD. HPD shall deliver written notice of any such determination of noncompliance to the owner of such real property and all mortgagees of record, which notice shall provide for an opportunity to cure of not less than ninety (90) days. If the noncompliance specified in such notice is not cured within the time period specified therein, the partial tax exemption granted hereunder shall prospectively terminate with respect to the real property specified therein.

Report of the Committee on Public Safety

Report for Int No 728-B

Report of the Committee on Public Safety in favor of approving and adopting, as amended, a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the publication of the NYPD patrol guide, and to repeal paragraph 2 of subdivision a of section 14-150 of the administrative code of the city of New York, relating to quarterly submission of the NYPD patrol guide

The Committee on Public Safety, to which the annexed amended proposed local law was referred on March 31, 2015 (Minutes, page 989), respectfully

REPORTS:

I. INTRODUCTION

On October 11, 2016, the Committee on Public Safety, chaired by Council Member Vanessa Gibson, will vote on Proposed Introductory Bill Number 728-B (“Int. No. 728-B”), a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the publication of the NYPD patrol guide, and to repeal paragraph 2 of subdivision a of section 14-150 of the administrative code of the city of New York, relating to quarterly submission of the NYPD patrol guide, and Proposed Introductory Bill Number 959-B (“Int. No. 959-B”), a Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to requiring the police department to report on hate crime statistics. The Committee heard Proposed Introductory Bill Number 728-A on September 15, 2016 and Proposed Introductory Bill Number 959 on October 15, 2015.

II. BACKGROUND

A. Proposed Int. No. 728-B

The patrol guide is the NYPD’s operations manual.¹ It contains comprehensive information about the rules that NYC police officers must follow in carrying out their official duties, including, among other things, department procedures, duties and responsibilities of personnel, and how officers should respond to various types of incidents and emergencies.² In addition to its use by the department, the patrol guide is also instructive to other entities and the general public. When the Civilian Complaint Review Board (“CCRB”) investigates a complaint of police misconduct, it focuses on the details of the encounter and determines whether or not the officer’s actions were improper based on the Patrol Guide and other sources, such as New York State law and the United States Constitution.³ Currently, the public may obtain portions of the patrol guide by submitting a request under the Freedom of Information Law (“FOIL”),⁴ and advocates maintain that awareness of the contents of the patrol guide is an important transparency initiative that will allow people to know what to expect from police encounters and bolster officer accountability. Several organizations, including the CCRB⁵, have posted excerpts of the patrol guide on their website and private entities sell the patrol guide online,⁶ but the NYPD, currently, does not directly sanction and post the publication publically. Additionally, private entities do not have access to or sell regular updates with frequency.

B. Proposed Int. No. 959-B

Under New York State's hate crime law, a person commits a hate crime when one of a specified set of offenses is committed targeting a victim because of a perception of belief about their race, color, national origin, ancestry, gender, religion, religious practice, age, disability, or sexual orientation.⁷ If the crime is classified as a hate crime, the defendant faces a higher sentence for the offense.⁸

In 2015, all five boroughs had a total of 307 hate crimes, with the highest incidents in Kings County with 113 reported incidents.⁹ Local law 110 of 2016 requires the NYPD to publically post the number of murders and felonious assaults determined to be hate crimes on their website on a quarterly and annual basis. While the local law does not require the NYPD to disaggregate the hate crimes by animus the Department does track the crimes according to the following categories: (i) anti-Black; (ii) anti-Caucasian; (iii) anti-Hispanic; (iv) anti-Asian; (v) anti-ethnic; (vi) anti-Semitic; (vii) anti-Muslim; (viii) anti-religion; (ix) anti-sexual orientation; (x) anti-disability; (xi) anti-other.

III. AMENDMENTS AND ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED INT. NO. 728-B

Section 1 of the bill would repeal a section of the administrative code related to the department's quarterly submission of the NYPD patrol guide updates to the council that will no longer be necessary if the documents are public.

Section 2 of the bill would require the NYPD to publish its patrol guide online and any updates within 24 hours of the effective date of those amendments, excluding portions that would reveal non-routine investigative techniques or confidential information or that would compromise the safety of the public or police officers. The bill would also require NYPD to publish any amendments made to the patrol guide no later than the effective date of such change, conspicuously noting the change and effective date.

Section 3 of the bill states the law becomes effective 90 days after becoming law.

Since Int. No. 728-A was heard, there were some changes. The amended version of the bill would require the NYPD to post any patrol guide update no later than 24 hours after the effective date of the new section, whereas the previous version of the bill required the NYPD to post an amendment no later than its effective date. In addition, the amended bill states that the failure to timely publish the amendment to the patrol guide online shall not affect the validity of the guide or its amendments.

IV. AMENDMENTS AND ANALYSIS OF PROPOSED INT. NO. 959-B

Section 1 of the bill adds a new paragraph 11 to section 14-161 which would add to the reporting requirements of local law number 110 of 2016 to include the number of hate crimes, disaggregated by the animus towards a targeted group that formed the motive for such hate crime, including but not limited to the following types of animus: (i) anti-Black; (ii) anti-Caucasian; (iii) anti-Hispanic; (iv) anti-Asian; (v) anti-ethnic; (vi) anti-Semitic; (vii) anti-Muslim; (viii) anti-religion; (ix) anti-gender identity; (x) anti-sexual orientation; (xi) anti-disability; (xii) anti-other. For the categories of anti-ethnic, anti-religion, anti-disability and anti-other, if a particular group within those categories is targeted a total of at least nine times in four consecutive quarters, the Department would be required to further disaggregate the data by the particular group.

Section 2 of the bill states the local law takes effect immediately.

Since Int. 959 was heard, there have been some changes. The categories of anti-religion, and anti-Asian were added to the bill. In addition, the requirement that the Department be required to further

Report for voice-vote Res No. 472

Report of the Committee on Governmental Operations in favor of approving a Resolution calling on the state and federal governments to amend their official forms and databases to accommodate multiracial identification in all instances where racial identification is required.

The Committee on Governmental Operations, to which the annexed resolution was referred on November 25, 2014 (Minutes, page 4152), respectfully

REPORTS:

(For text of report, please see the Report of the Committee on Governmental Operations for Int No. 251-A printed in these Minutes)

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption.

(The following is the text of Res No. 472:)

Res. No. 472

Resolution calling on the state and federal governments to amend their official forms and databases to accommodate multiracial identification in all instances where racial identification is required.

By Council Members Chin, Johnson, Kallos, Constantinides, Dromm, Gentile, Lander, Levine, Mendez, Reynoso, Koslowitz, Levin, Rodriguez, Vallone, Palma, Lancman, Ferreras-Copeland, Koo, Rose, Espinal, Cumbo, Miller, Crowley, Torres, Menchaca, Rosenthal and Williams.

Whereas, The 2000 United States Census (“Census”) was the first census to allow individuals to record their race using more than one category; that year, more than 2.4 percent of the population selected a multiracial identity; and

Whereas, By the 2010 Census, the number of people identifying as more than one race grew 32 percent, accounting for 9 million people nationwide; and

Whereas, Between the 2000 Census and the 2010 Census, individuals of two or more races grew at a faster rate than any group identifying with a single race; and

Whereas, According to the United States Census Bureau, approximately 2.2 percent of the population of New York State and 2.3 percent of the population of the United States identify as belonging to two or more races; and

Whereas, Additionally, a 2012 Pew Research report found that interracial marriages have increased significantly over the past three decades, accounting for 5.7 percent of new marriages in 1980 and 15 percent in 2010; and

Whereas, Despite a growing population of people who identify as being multiracial, forms at the federal and state levels do not always reflect the realities of these demographic trends; and

Whereas, The Federal Bureau of Investigation’s fingerprinting form, for example, is coded in such a way that only one of five different demographic categories can be entered: Asian or Pacific Islander, Black, American Indian or Alaskan Native, Unknown, and White; and

Whereas, Employees in the United States Army and Air National Guard wishing to file a complaint alleging racial discrimination are similarly limited, able only to identify their race as Black, White, American Indian/Alaskan Native or Asian Pacific Islander, with no indication that selecting more than one race is permitted; and

Whereas, At the state level, minority businesses applying for certification as Minority and Women-Owned Business Enterprises are only able to select one of the following categories: Black, Hispanic, Asian-Pacific, Asian-Indian Subcontinent and Native American; and

Whereas, It is unfair to ask people that belong to more than one racial demographic to choose only the race selections provided on government documents, essentially forcing them to misrepresent themselves; and

Whereas, Failure to include multiracial identifiers on state and federal forms can also have broader consequences, as it produces an inaccurate picture of the state’s and the country’s racial diversity; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the state and federal governments to amend their official forms and databases to accommodate multiracial identification in all instances where racial identification is required.

BEN KALLOS, Chairperson; DAVID G. GREENFIELD, MARK LEVINE, CARLOS MENCHACA, ANTONIO REYNOSO, RITCHIE J. TORRES, JOSEPH C. BORELLI; Committee on Governmental Operations, October 11, 2016. Other Council Members Attending: Council Member Dromm

Pursuant to Rule 8.50 of the Council, the Public Advocate (Ms. James) called for a voice-vote. Hearing no objections, the Public Advocate (Ms. James) declared the Resolution to be adopted.

Adopted unanimously by the Council by voice-vote.

Report for voice-vote Res No. 1230

Report of the Committee on Committee on Cultural Affairs, Libraries and International Intergroup Relations in favor of approving a Resolution declaring support for Muslim communities, affirming the religious pluralism of the United States, and urging all residents to stand together for peace and understanding.

The Committee on Cultural Affairs, Libraries and International Intergroup Relations to which the annexed resolution was referred on September 28, 2016 (Minutes, page 3217), respectfully

REPORTS:

Introduction

On October 11, 2016, the Committee on Cultural Affairs, Libraries and International Intergroup Relations, chaired by Council Member James Van Bramer, will hold a hearing on Res. No. 1230, a resolution declaring support for Muslim communities, affirming the religious pluralism of the United States, and urging all residents to stand together for peace and understanding. Faith-based organizations, community-based organizations, advocacy groups, religious leaders, and clergy members are invited to testify.

Res. No. 1230

Res. No. 1230 would recognize that Muslims are a part of our society and, inspired by their faith and dedication to American ideals, give back every day as military personnel, police officers, doctors, nurses, caregivers, teachers, students, and in many other roles contributing to the success of the United States and the City of New York. Res. No. 1230 would also state that our nation's founding documents emphasize the freedom of religion and a society that embraces religious pluralism.

Res. No. 1230 would indicate the City of New York values the many different cultures, religions, and traditions that our residents embrace. Res. No. 1230 would also indicate that Muslims, both native born and immigrant, represent an increasingly important thread in the tapestry of American society. Res. No. 1230 would further note that throughout history, the U.S. has welcome wave after wave of immigrants and refugees who add enormous value to the economic and cultural life of our nation.

Res. No. 1230 would acknowledge that, presently, anti-Muslim, Islamophobia rhetoric has increased in the national discourse and rates of hate violence targeting Muslim families and children are at record highs across our nation, which is detrimental to all people who cherish freedom and liberty. Res. No. 1230 would further state that some of the darkest moments in our nation and our City's history have emerged from similar climates of fear. Res. No. 1230 would indicate that hateful rhetoric only enables extremist ideologies to flourish in the dark corners of global society.

Res. No. 1230 would indicate that the City of New York finds anti-Muslim, Islamophobic rhetoric and hate violence to be against American principles of religious freedom and fairness and contrary to the vision we hold as a nation that welcomes all people. Res. No. 1230 would also state that all of New York City's residents deserve to live in a safe environment free of hate and discrimination. Res. No. 1230 would state that the City of New York wishes to extend the traditional Islamic greeting of Al Salam Alaikum (peace be upon you) to all of its Muslim residents and visitors.

Finally Res. No. 1230 would note the Council of the City of New York declares support for Muslim communities, affirms the religious pluralism of the United States, and urges all residents to stand together for peace and tolerance.

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption.

REPORTS:

I. Introduction

On October 11, 2016, the Committee on Public Housing, chaired by Council Member Ritchie Torres, will hold a hearing for the purposes of conducting a vote on Res. No. 1231, a resolution calling on the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development to exclude New York City, and other cities with a housing vacancy rate below 5%, from the Proposed Rule on Small Area Fair Market Rents. The Committee previously heard Res. No. 1231 on October 5, 2016.

II. Background on the Housing Choice Voucher Program in New York City

The Housing Choice Voucher (“HCV”) program, also known as the Section 8 program, is a federal program for helping very low-income families, the elderly, and the disabled afford decent, safe, and sanitary housing.¹ The program, created by the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, is funded by HUD and administered by local housing authorities. In New York City, the two local housing authorities that administer the HCV program are NYCHA and HPD.²³

NYCHA currently administers approximately 85,236 HCV vouchers.⁴ The average household income for a NYCHA HCV tenant is $15,803.⁵ On average, a NYCHA HCV tenant pays a rent of $360, which is their share of the contract rent. There are currently 147,033 families on the waiting list for NYCHA’s HCV program.⁶

HPD administers approximately 38,822 HCV vouchers.⁷ The average household income for an HPD HCV tenant is $16,080.⁸ On average, an HPD HCV tenant pays a rent of $405, which is their share of the contract rent. HPD generally targets its vouchers to very specific populations of New Yorkers, including homeless households and households affected by HPD renovations.⁹

The HCV program has two distinct components: (1) a tenant-based rental subsidy that provides participants with a supplement to their income which allows them to choose any privately owned housing that meets the requirements of the program¹⁰ and (2) project-based assistance for participants who live in specific housing developments or units.¹¹ The former voucher is attached to a participating tenant and is portable, while the latter voucher is attached to a specific development or unit and is not portable.

A key parameter in operating the HCV program is the Fair Market Rent (“FMR”), which is set annually by HUD for different geographic areas. In general, the FMR for a metropolitan area is “the amount that would be needed to pay the gross rent (shelter rent plus utilities) of privately owned, decent, and safe rental housing of a modest (non-luxury) nature with suitable amenities.”¹² FMRs for a metropolitan area represent the 40th percentile gross rent for typical, non-luxury, non-substandard rental units occupied by recent movers in a local housing market.¹³ For the current fiscal year, Fiscal Year 2017, the FMRs for the NY HUD Metro FMR Area, which includes New York City,¹⁴ are as follows:¹⁵

Final FY 2017 & Final FY 2016 FMRs By Unit Bedrooms
Year	Efficiency	One-Bedroom	Two-Bedroom	Three-Bedroom	Four-Bedroom
Final FY 2017 FMR	$1,352	$1,419	$1,637	$2,102	$2,267

Percentage Change	4.6%	4.6%	4.2%	4.0%	1.9%

In the HCV program, the FMR is the basis for determining the “payment standard amount” set by an administering agency to calculate the maximum monthly subsidy for a voucher household.¹⁶ Administering agencies may establish payment standards between 90 and 110% of the FMR.¹⁷ The subsidized portion of the rent provided by HUD is equal to the difference between the payment standard and the tenant’s contribution, which is generally 30% of their household income.¹⁸ Participants may choose to live in a unit with a gross rent that is higher than the payment standard, but must pay the full cost of the difference between the gross rent and the payment standard in addition to their initial contribution.¹⁹ On average, NYCHA’s share of a HCV program participant’s rent is $995 and HPD’s share of a HCV participant’s rent is $971. NYCHA’s and HPD’s current payment standards are as follows:

III. HUD's Proposed SAFMR Rule

Choice Voucher Program Instead of the Current 50th Percentile FMRs (FR-5855-P-02),” which proposes repealing the current FMR regulation and replacing it with a regulation based on Small Area Fair Market Rents (“SAFMRs”).²² Comments on the Proposed Rule were due August 15, 2016.²³ HUD hopes to release a final rule in 2016 but has not disclosed an exact date.²⁴

The stated purpose of the Proposed Rule is to “establish a more effective means for HCV tenants to move into areas of higher opportunity and lower poverty by providing the tenants with a subsidy adequate to make such areas accessible and, consequently, help reduce the number of voucher families that reside in areas of high poverty concentration.”²⁵ Subsidy for HUD’s HCV program is currently determined by the FMR for an entire metropolitan area. However, rents can vary widely within a metropolitan area. The result of determining rents on the basis of an entire metropolitan area is that a voucher subsidy may be too high or may be too low to cover the actual market rent in a given neighborhood.²⁶ HUD’s current policy for addressing high concentrations of voucher holders raises the level of the FMR from the 40th percentile to the 50th percentile in the whole FMR area. However, HUD has found that even with the 50th percentile regime, the majority of voucher holders use their vouchers in neighborhoods where rents are low but poverty is generally high.²⁷ Under the Proposed Rule, FMR will be determined on the basis of zip codes, rather than metropolitan area, thus increasing the subsidy in some zip codes where the market rent is higher and lowering it in others where the market rent is lower.²⁸ According to HUD, zip codes are small enough to reflect neighborhood differences and provide an easier method of comparing rents.²⁹ HUD has theorized that a higher subsidy in “higher opportunity” zip codes will make those areas accessible and reduce the number of voucher families that reside in areas of high poverty concentration.³⁰

HUD has been testing the idea of SAFMRs since 2010, when it announced a demonstration project to determine the effectiveness of FMRs based on zip code.³¹ In November 2012, HUD announced that demonstration projects would take place in Cook County, IL; Long Beach, CA; Chattanooga, TN, Mamaroneck, NY; and Laredo, TX.³² HUD also mandated the use of SAFMRs to settle litigation in Dallas, TX.³³ Although HUD is still awaiting overall evaluation of the demonstrations, HUD has decided to adopt a SAFMR methodology based on encouraging evidence from Dallas, where SAFMRs have been in operation since 2012.³⁴ Researchers have found that Dallas tenants who have chosen to move have moved to higher opportunity neighborhoods from the lower opportunity neighborhoods.³⁵ As a first step, HUD published an Advance Notice of Proposed Rulemaking on June 2, 2015, in which HUD announced its intention to amend HUD’s FMR regulations and use SAFMRs.³⁶

In the current Proposed Rule, HUD proposes to establish SAFMRs for certain metropolitan areas, using the following criteria to determine which metropolitan areas must implement SAFMRs for their voucher program operations:

1. Number of vouchers: there are at least 2,500 vouchers under lease; and

2. Existence of high opportunity neighborhoods: at least 20% of the rental stock within the metropolitan area is more than 110% of the metropolitan FMR; and
3. High voucher concentration in low-income areas: the percentage of voucher holders living in “concentrated low-income areas” relative to all renters within these areas exceeds 155% (or 1.55).³⁷

For the purpose of the rule, “concentrated low-income areas” are defined as those census tracts in the metropolitan area with a poverty rate of 25% or more, or any tract in the metropolitan area where at least 50% of the households earn less than 60% of the area median income.³⁸ Based on this criteria, New York City, along with 30 other cities, including Chicago, Philadelphia, Washington D.C., Atlanta, Oakland, Dallas, San Diego, Tampa, Pittsburgh and San Antonio, would be required to implement SAFMRs for all of its vouchers.³⁹ The Proposed Rule would apply to all current tenant-based vouchers as well as future project-based vouchers, where the notice of owner selection is made after the effective date of the SAFMR designation.⁴⁰

IV. NYCHA and HPD’s Comment on the Proposed SAFMR Rule

On August 15, 2016, NYCHA and HPD submitted comments on the Proposed Rule.⁴¹ In those comments, they expressed concerns about how the Proposed Rule would work in low vacancy, high-cost rental housing markets like New York City. The agencies recommended that the criteria for mandatory use of SAFMRs exclude metropolitan areas with a rental vacancy rate of less than 5%, including New York City, which has a vacancy rate of 3.45%.⁴² Specifically, the agencies wrote that they fear that the Proposed Rule is unlikely to result in the desired increased mobility for voucher holders in low vacancy cities, and instead is likely to subject many of them to increased rent burdens. The agencies estimate that up to 55,000 families might see their rent burden increase if SAMFRs are adopted in New York City.⁴³

NYCHA and HPD made the following five recommendations for improving the Proposed Rule:

1. “The Agencies recommend that HUD add a vacancy rate to its selection criteria to exclude metropolitan areas with a vacancy rate at or below 5 percent. The rental vacancy rate threshold should be based on the rate in the largest city in the metropolitan area.”
2. “The formula to determine which cities are subject to SAFMR is not sufficiently sensitive to recent changes in many of the neighborhoods identified as Concentrated Low-Income Areas (CLIAs). The Agencies therefore recommend that HUD modify its definition of CLIAs to exclude Qualified Census Tracts that fall within a Public Use Microdata Area (PUMA) that is experiencing significant rent increases.”
3. “The proposed SAFMRs do not accurately reflect the market in a number of New York’s gentrifying neighborhoods, and, if implemented, could exacerbate the challenge of preserving affordability in areas with rapidly rising rents. To address those problems, the Agencies recommend that the formula for setting the FMR at a ZIP code level (ZCTA) include a measure that accounts for recent rent trends in a neighborhood.”
4. “To ensure that Project Based Vouchers (PBVs) continue to be an effective tool for preserving affordability and building new, quality affordable housing, the Agencies recommend excluding all (including future) PBVs from SAFMRs.”
5. “Because we do not think SAFMRs are an effective mobility tool in low-vacancy markets such as New York City, the Agencies urge HUD to allow cities to design a mobility strategy within the current FMR rules that will be most effective within their local rental market context.”⁴⁴

V. Public Comments on the Proposed SAFMR Rule

The public comment period for the Proposed Rule ended on August 15, 2016.⁴⁵ HUD received 120 comments and many of these comments came from New York stakeholders, including property owners, tenant advocates, legal service providers, researchers and elected officials.⁴⁶ A number of New York City Council Members, including Speaker Melissa Mark-Viverito and the Chair of the Public Housing Committee, also submitted comments. Some of the consistent themes that emerged centered on: (1) housing costs in New York City; (2) impact on HCV participants and households; (3) impact on neighborhoods; (4) impact on project-based vouchers; and (5) administrative burden due to differing payment standards.⁴⁷ Below is summary of the most frequent comments made by various New York stakeholders:

1. Housing costs in New York City

- It will be difficult to implement SAFMRs because of New York City's low vacancy rate of 3.45%. It is currently difficult to find housing at any rent level in New York City due to the availability of apartments, and it is even more difficult for low-income renters who are looking for affordable housing.
- SAFMRs could cause New York City's homeless population to swell. Many New York City renters already suffer from high rent burdens with over 50% of renter households paying more than 30% of their income towards rent and almost 30% of renter households pay more than 50% of their income towards rent.⁴⁸ The SAFMR proposal to decrease the payment standards in low opportunity neighborhoods could increase costs for families who already have a high rent burden, which could cause those families to be evicted or end up homeless if they cannot shoulder the additional costs.
- The proposal to decrease the payment standards in low opportunity neighborhoods would not lead property owners to lower rents in those neighborhoods. Because housing demand in New York City is so high, property owners would be able to replace current voucher tenants very easily.⁴⁹

2. Impact on HCV participants and households

- Current FMRs do not reflect the real cost of housing in any New York City neighborhood. It is common for current voucher holders to request an extension to the 120-day search period since it is difficult to find an apartment. Although the Proposed Rule would increase the payment standard in high opportunity neighborhoods, it would still be difficult for a voucher holder to obtain an apartment in those neighborhoods because the SAFMR rent would still be too low to cover the market rent.⁵⁰
- The reduction in the payment standard amount for voucher holders in low opportunity neighborhoods would displace families who have achieved housing stability or it would create a higher rent burden for those households.⁵¹
- The policy would have a negative impact on low-income seniors and the disabled. Over time, many low-income seniors and disabled tenants have developed a network of people who can help them when they need assistance. They were able to create this network since they have stability in their housing. SAFMRs could jeopardize this network since their fixed incomes may not be able to absorb a higher rent and these vulnerable tenants could be forced to relocate.⁵²

3. Impact on neighborhoods

- SAFMRs fail to reflect the current market conditions in New York City. Gentrification is occurring in many neighborhoods that were once considered low-income. Residents with higher incomes are relocating to these areas, investments are being made, the neighborhoods are receiving more amenities and the neighborhoods have lower crime rates. Some of these gentrifying neighborhoods would be considered low opportunity neighborhoods under SAFMR, thus potentially forcing low-income voucher households to leave them. HUD should be pursuing policies that encourage low-income residents to remain in these neighborhoods to benefit from the changes.⁵³

4. Impact on project-based vouchers

- The development of new project-based voucher sites in high opportunity areas would not improve with SAMFRs, despite the increased subsidy, due to high capital costs. SAFMRs could instead lower the amount of affordable housing units that are being built in New York City.⁵⁴

5. Administrative burden due to differing payment standards

- The proposed SAFMR regulations would require different payment standards for 188 zip codes in New York City. This would be a confusing scheme that would become a burden for property owners, tenants and administrative agencies.

VI. Res. No. 1231

Res. No. 1231 calls on HUD to exclude New York City, and other cities with a housing vacancy rate below 5%, from the Proposed Rule on Small Area Fair Market Rents. Res. No. 1231 states that New York City is home to the largest HCV Program in the country, with approximately 120,000 vouchers collectively administered by NYCHA and HPD. Further, Res. No. 1231 states that New York City is in the midst of a housing crisis, with an overall housing vacancy rate of 3.45%. Res. No. 1231 also states that, due to New York City's low vacancy rate, voucher holders will struggle to find housing in zip codes where the FMR and subsidy will increase under the Proposed Rule and that the Proposed Rule would instead exacerbate New York City's current housing crisis by increasing the rent burden for 55,000 voucher holders who live in zip codes where the FMR and subsidy will decrease. Finally, Res. No. 1231 states that if those 55,000 voucher holders who see their rent burden increase are unable to shoulder the burden of paying additional rent, they could lose their vouchers, be evicted or end up homeless, adding strain to New York City's shelter system.

Accordingly, this Committee recommends its adoption.

Res. No. 1244

By Council Members Cohen, Rosenthal, Lander, Levine, Wills, Dickens, Cabrera, Rose, Salamanca, Maisel, Palma, Mealy, Koslowitz, Levin, King, Kallos, Johnson and Tottrres.

Resolution calling upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation prohibiting marriage under the age of 18, without exceptions.

Whereas, New York's Domestic Relations Law allows 16 and 17 year olds to marry if they have parental consent, with no process to ensure that a child has not been coerced; and

Whereas, Further, New York's Domestic Relations Law allows 14 and 15 year olds to marry if they have judicial approval in addition to parental consent, including in cases where the age difference between parties would otherwise be classified as statutory rape; and

Whereas, UNICEF calls marriage before the age of 18 “a fundamental violation of human rights,” because it puts girls at risk of exploitation and positions them to face a lifetime of disadvantage, including increased rates of dropping out of school, experiencing domestic violence, and dying from complications in pregnancy and childbirth; and

Whereas, A 2010 study on early marriage in the United States, “Early Teen Marriage and Future Poverty,” found that a woman who marries young is 31% more likely to live in poverty later in life; and

Whereas, A 2011 study, “Child Marriage in the United States and Its Association with Mental Health in Women,” found that women who marry before age 18 experience higher rates of psychiatric disorders than women who marry as adults; and

Whereas, The divorce rate is between 70 and 80 percent for marriages entered under the age of 18; and

Whereas, The current legal concept of parental consent fails to account for the emotional and social capacities necessary to understand the consequences of the decision to marry, which a child developmentally lacks; and

Whereas, The societal and familial pressure to marry underage due to an out-of-wedlock pregnancy is no longer as stigmatizing as it once was, and support exists outside of marriage for minors in that situation; and

Whereas, Data compiled by Unchained at Last, an advocacy group against coerced marriage, show that 3,853 minors were married in New York between 2000 and 2010; and

Whereas, Many states prohibit marriage under the age of 18, although every state allows exceptions, including New York; and

Whereas, In addition to New York, other states have recently made progress in restricting or banning child marriage, with similar bills having been introduced in Maryland and New Jersey; and

Whereas, In Virginia, a law went into effect in July 2016, setting the minimum age for marriage at 18, or 16 if a child has been legally emancipated, removing the previous exceptions for children as young as 13 to marry if they had parental consent and were pregnant; and

Whereas, In November 2015, New York State Assembly Member Amy Paulin introduced A. 8563, legislation to prohibit marriage under the age of 18, without exceptions; and

Whereas, Raising the age of consent for marriage to 18 would protect children from possible exploitation and lower the chances they would face a lifetime of negative economic, social, and health consequences; now, therefore, be it to which the voucher or invoice relates have been received and accepted by the agency, (ii) a program for the payment of interest, at a uniform rate, to vendors on vouchers or invoices not paid within the maximum amount of time pursuant to clause i of this subdivision, (iii) a process for the allocation and charging of any such interest payments to the budget of the agency responsible for the delay leading to the interest payments and (iv) agency reporting on the promptness of such payments in such form and containing such information as the board shall prescribe. The board shall coordinate and publish such agency prompt payment reports.

Resolved, That the Council of New York calls upon the New York State Legislature to pass, and the Governor to sign, legislation prohibiting marriage under the age of 18, without exceptions.

Res. No. 1245

Resolution calling on the United States Congress to pass and the President to sign bill S.3074, the Climate Change Education Act.

By Council Members Constantinides, Palma, Richards and Rosenthal.

Whereas, The consensus among the overwhelming majority of scientists, internationally, is that climate change is occurring at a rapid rate and the current trend of warming in Earth's climate system is unprecedented; and

Whereas, The increasing concentration of greenhouse gases in Earth's atmosphere is a main cause of climate change; and

Whereas, The principal human activity contributing to climate change and global warming is the emission of greenhouse gases by burning fossil fuels for power; and

Whereas, According to the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), the future rate and magnitude of climate change will depend on the rate at which greenhouse gas concentrations in Earth's atmosphere continue to increase; and

Whereas, Climate change is impacting New York City's public health, critical infrastructure, communities, vulnerable populations, natural systems, buildings and economy, and these impacts will worsen in the future; and

Whereas, Impacts that are anticipated by experts such as the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, the National Academy of Sciences, the EPA, the New York State Energy Research and Development Authority, and the New York City Mayor's Office of Long-Term Planning and Sustainability include severe weather such as droughts and hurricanes, human health impacts, environmental justice impacts, economic impacts, damage to infrastructure, sea level rise, changes to coastlines and coastal wetlands, disruption of ecosystems and loss of biodiversity; and

Whereas, In order to mitigate the extent and impacts of climate change, local, national and global societies must change their economic and social behaviors, and in order to change behaviors societies must be informed about and educated on the connection between human activities and climate change, possible consequences and potential solutions; and

Whereas, According to a 2014 study by the Yale Project on Climate Change Communication and the George Mason Center for Climate Change Communication only 63% of Americans believe global warming is happening; 35% believe global warming is caused mostly by natural phenomena rather than human activities; 48% are not worried about global warming; 57% believe global warming is not currently harming people in the United States and it will not for at least 25 years, if ever; and 26% believe global warming will cause little or no harm to future generations; and

Whereas, The National Center for Science Education has stated that the science of climate change should be taught in formal and informal educational settings in order to inform future citizens to make science-based decisions on the causes, effects and solutions to climate change; and

Whereas, In 2013, a consortium of 26 states, the National Science Teachers Association, the American Association for the Advancement of Science, the National Research Council and Achieve released the Next Generation Science Standards (NGSS), which are new guidelines for what the science content in educational curricula for students in grades kindergarten through 12 should include, and these guidelines include climate change education beginning in middle school; and

Whereas, So far 16 states have adopted the NGSS, but New York is not one of them; and

Whereas, In New York, the State Education Department (SED) is responsible for setting standards for what all students should know and be able to do as a result of skilled instruction, and in 2016, the Council adopted Resolution 375 calling upon the SED to include lessons on climate change in curricula for students in grades kindergarten through 12; and

Whereas, Bill S.3074 sponsored by Senator Edward Markey, the Climate Change Education Act, has been introduced in the United States Senate and, if enacted into law, it would declare that the evidence for human-induced climate change is overwhelming and undeniable, and would require the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) to establish a Climate Change Education Program to broaden the understanding of human-induced climate change, possible consequences, and potential solutions; apply the latest scientific and technological discoveries to provide learning opportunities to people of all ages; conduct a national information campaign to educate people and promote implementation of new technologies, programs, and incentives related to energy conservation, renewable energy, and greenhouse gas reduction; and inform the public of climate change's impacts on human health and safety; and

Whereas, The Climate Change Education Act would also require NOAA to establish a grant program for climate change education; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to pass and the President to sign bill S.3074, the Climate Change Education Act.

Resolution calling on the United States Congress and New York State Legislature to deploy resources for the prevention of Zika in the Caribbean.

By Council Members Eugene, Palma, Barron, Richards and Rosenthal.

Whereas, Zika is a virus that can be transmitted through mosquito bites, from a pregnant woman to her fetus, sex, and possibly through blood transfusions; and

Whereas, Many people infected with Zika virus will not display any symptoms or will only have mild symptoms; and

Whereas, The most common symptoms of Zika are fever, rash, joint pain, and conjunctivitis; and

Whereas, Zika infection during pregnancy can cause a birth defect of the brain called microcephaly and other severe fetal brain defects; and

Whereas, Zika has also been linked to defects of the eye, hearing deficits, and impaired growth in fetuses and infants, as well as Guillain-Barré syndrome, an uncommon sickness of the nervous system that can cause paralysis; and

Whereas, Zika virus was first discovered in 1947 and is named after the Zika Forest in Uganda; and

Whereas, In 1952, the first human cases of Zika were detected and since then, outbreaks of Zika have been reported in tropical Africa, Southeast Asia, and the Pacific Islands; and

Whereas, The symptoms of Zika are similar to those of many other diseases and outbreaks could have occurred in many locations without being recognized; and

Whereas, Zika reached Brazil for the first time in May 2015 and quickly spread throughout much of South America, Central America, and the Caribbean; and

Whereas, By August 2016, the World Health Organization declared the Zika virus a global public health emergency and the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention had issued travel advisories for much of the Caribbean, South America, Central America, the Pacific Islands and Singapore; and

Whereas, As of September 2, 2016, there were 510 travel-related cases of Zika in New York City, with well over half of those cases linked to the Dominican Republic (278), followed by Puerto Rico (49) and Jamaica (47); and

Whereas, According to the United States (U.S) Department of Commerce International Trade Administration National Travel and Tourism Office, 7.2 million U.S residents traveled from the U.S. to the Caribbean and almost 1.2 million people traveled from the Caribbean to the U.S. in 2013; and

Whereas, While New York City has a robust mosquito control program and has launched a prevention and education campaign in addition to expanding Zika testing, many other municipalities and countries do not have such strong prevention programs; and

Whereas, In May 2016, the New York City Department of Health and Mental Hygiene announced it will donate 1 million condoms to assist with Zika prevention efforts in Puerto Rico, recognizing that New York City is home to the largest population of Puerto Ricans in the continental U.S., and many New Yorkers travel back and forth to the island; and

Whereas, Given the close proximity and high amount of travel, it is incumbent upon the United States and New York State to join New York City in assisting our neighboring islands in the Caribbean in preparation and containment of these and future outbreaks; now, therefore, be it

By Council Members Garodnick, Cumbo, Rosenthal, The Speaker (Council Member Mark-Viverito), Levin, Palma, Richards and Koslowitz.

Whereas, On October 16, 1916, Margaret Sanger, her sister, and a friend opened America's first birth control clinic in Brooklyn, serving poor, immigrant women, some of whom lined up hours before the doors open; and

Whereas, At the time, contraception was illegal and all three women were convicted of disseminating birth control information; and

Whereas, Sanger appealed her conviction and continued to fight for access to birth control through the courts and also by creating multiple organizations to promote the research of birth control and the founding of birth control clinics; and

Whereas, These organizations eventually merged into Planned Parenthood Federation of America, Inc.; and

Whereas, Through decades of successes and setbacks in its unflinching and tireless push for access to family planning for all women, regardless of income, Planned Parenthood has developed into the remarkable network of organizations that it is today; and

Whereas, Planned Parenthood currently has 57 distinctive, locally governed affiliates nationwide operating approximately 650 health centers, which reflect the diverse needs of their communities; and

Whereas, These health centers provide a wide range of high-quality, affordable medical care with a focus on prevention, including contraception, screenings for cervical and other cancers, and testing and treatment of sexually transmitted infections, as well as abortion services; and

Whereas, One in five American women has chosen Planned Parenthood for health care at least once in her life; and

Whereas, With 80 percent of their patients receiving services to prevent unintended pregnancies, Planned Parenthood health centers estimate that their services help prevent 579,000 unintended pregnancies in a single year; and

Whereas, Planned Parenthood health centers provide vital health care services such as 270,000 Pap tests and more than 360,000 breast exams in a single year, as well as 4.2 million tests and treatments for sexually transmitted infections, including more than 650,000 HIV tests; and

Whereas, Planned Parenthood affiliates provide comprehensive sex education that empowers women, men, teens, and families to make informed choices and lead healthy lives, reaching 1.5 million young people and adults every year through their programs and outreach; and

Whereas, With its 8 million activists, supporters and donors nationwide, Planned Parenthood organizations advocate for policies throughout the country that enable access to comprehensive reproductive and sexual health care, education, and information; and

Whereas, Planned Parenthood Global also works with local partners in Africa and Latin America to overcome barriers to reproductive and sexual health care and information; and

Whereas, The 100th anniversary of Planned Parenthood is the perfect occasion to recognize the years of work and dedication to ensuring an individual's right to make informed, independent decisions about health, sex, and family planning; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York recognizes Planned Parenthood's accomplishments in delivering vital reproductive health care, sex education, and information to millions of women, men, and young people worldwide for 100 years.

LaGuardia High School of Music & Art and Performing Arts are named; and

Whereas, During World War II, many Italian-American women took war jobs, including Rose Bonavita-Hickey, who was recognized by President Franklin D. Roosevelt with a personal letter commending her for her performance as an aircraft riveter and, together with two other women workers, came to symbolize all American women workers in the war industries as “Rosie the Riveter”; and

Whereas, Joe DiMaggio, an Italian-American, was a Major League Baseball center fielder who played his entire 13-year career for the New York Yankees and a three-time MVP winner, perhaps best known for his 56-game hitting streak in 1941, a record that still stands; and

A Local Law to amend the administrative code of the city of New York, in relation to prohibiting discrimination in the issuance of credit and requiring creditors to disclose to potential borrowers how their rate is calculated

Be it enacted by the Council as follows:

Section 1. Section 8-107 of the administrative code of the city of New York, as amended by local law 63 for the year 2015, is amended by adding a new subdivision 25 to read as follows:

25. Credit. (a) It shall be an unlawful discriminatory practice for any creditor or any officer, agent or employee thereof to discriminate in the granting, withholding, extending or renewing, or in the fixing of the rates, terms or conditions of, any form of credit on the basis of an applicant’s race, creed, religion, color, national origin, sexual orientation, age, gender, marital status, disability, partnership status, alienage or citizenship status of such applicant or applicants, or because of any lawful source of income of such applicant or applicants, or because children are, may be or would be residing with such applicant or applicants.

(b) Notwithstanding paragraph a of this subdivision, it shall not be considered discriminatory if credit differentiations or decisions are based upon factually supportable, objective differences in applicants’ overall credit worthiness, which may include reference to such factors as current income, assets and prior credit history of such applicants, as well as reference to any other relevant factually supportable data; provided, however, that no creditor shall consider, in evaluating the credit worthiness of an applicant, aggregate statistics or assumptions relating to race, creed, religion, color, national origin, sexual orientation, age, gender, marital status, disability, partnership status, alienage or citizenship status of such applicant or applicants, or any lawful source of income of such applicant or applicants, or whether children are, may be or would be residing with such applicant or applicants.

(c) Notwithstanding paragraph a of this subdivision, it shall not be an unlawful discriminatory practice to consider age in determining credit worthiness when age has a demonstrable and statistically sound relationship to a determination of credit worthiness.

(d) Notwithstanding paragraph a of this subdivision, the provisions in this subdivision, as they relate to age, shall not apply to persons under the age of eighteen years.

(e) Notwithstanding paragraph a of this subdivision, it shall not be an unlawful discriminatory practice for a creditor or any officer, agent or employee thereof to make inquiries concerning marital history, status and number of dependents.

(f) A creditor granting, withholding, extending or renewing, or fixing the rates, terms or conditions of, any form of credit shall, if requested by an applicant or applicants in writing, disclose the method by which such determinations, rates, terms or conditions were calculated.

§ 2. The commission on human rights shall engage in outreach and education efforts regarding the rights of borrowers, and the responsibilities of creditors, established by this local law. Such outreach and education shall be directed at such creditors and the general public.

§ 3. a. For a period of one year, the commission on human rights shall organize and conduct no fewer than five investigations of discrimination in the granting, withholding, extending or renewing, or in the fixing of the rates, terms or conditions of, any form of credit, during which the commission shall use pairs of testers to investigate creditors. Such investigations shall include but not be limited to using matched pairs of testers who shall apply for, inquire about or express interest in the same extension of credit and who shall be assigned similar credentials but who shall differ in one of the following characteristics: actual or perceived race, creed, religion, color, national origin, sexual orientation, age, gender, marital status, disability, partnership status, alienage or citizenship status of such applicant or applicants, lawful source of income, number of children who are, may be or would be residing with such applicant or applicants. The first of the investigations shall commence on or before January 1, 2016.

b. On or before January 1, 2017, the commission shall submit to the speaker of the Council a report related to such investigations conducted during the 12 month period commencing on January 1, 2016. Such report shall include, but not be limited to: (i) the number of matched pair tests completed; (ii) the protected class variable used in each matched pair test; and (iii) the number of incidents of actual or perceived discrimination on each protected class, including a description of any incidents of discrimination detected in the course of such investigations, provided that the commission shall not be required to report information that would compromise any ongoing or prospective investigation or prosecution.

c. Any incidents of actual or perceived discrimination that occur during such investigations shall be referred to the commission's law enforcement bureau.

d. Nothing herein shall preclude the commission from conducting other such discrimination testing programs or investigations pursuant to the commissioner's authority under this Code and the New York city charter.

§ 4. This local law shall take effect 120 days after its enactment, provided, however, that the commissioner shall take any actions necessary prior to such effective date for the implementation of this local law including, but not limited to, the adoption of any necessary rules.

Res. No. 1249

Resolution calling on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.8575, which seeks to create a uniform baseline standards for drug testing, including synthetic cannabinoids, for individuals who are on probation or parole.

By Council Member Wills.

Whereas, Currently, New York State does not have an established baseline standard for drug testing individuals who are on probation or parole; and

Whereas, While State correctional institutions test probationers and parolees for illegal substance use, such as marijuana and cocaine, these institution do not test for synthetic cannabinoids; and

Whereas, Synthetic cannabinoids are generally marketed as legal and typically consist of plant material coated by chemicals, which are supposed to mimic THC, the active chemical compound in marijuana; and

Whereas, According to the New York State Department of Health, hospitals located in the State have recently experienced a dramatic increase in emergency department visits for adverse health effects due to synthetic cannabinoids; and

Whereas, In response to this alarming public health risk, New York City enacted local laws criminalizing the sale and production of synthetic cannabinoids; and

Whereas, A.8575, introduced by New York State Assembly Member Edward P. Ra and pending in the Assembly, seeks to create a set of uniform minimum standards for drug testing parolees and probationers, which would include synthetic cannabinoids; and

Whereas, A.8575 would permit local probation departments, municipalities, and regional departments of parole, to employ stricter drug testing policies; and

Whereas, A.8575 would identify individuals on probation and parole who see synthetic cannabinoids as a way to cheat current drug tests; and

Whereas, Many of these probationers and parolees subsequently become one of the many victims of synthetic cannabinoids that result in drug-related hospital admissions; and

Whereas, Identifying these individuals would help lower the number of people going to New York State hospital emergency rooms due to the use of synthetic drugs; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls on the New York State Legislature to pass and the Governor to sign A.8575, which seeks to create a uniform baseline standards for drug testing, including synthetic cannabinoids, for individuals who are on probation or parole.

Referred to the Committee on Fire and Criminal Justice Services.

Res. No. 1250

Resolution calling upon the United States Congress to pass and the President to sign the Biotechnology Food Labeling Uniformity Act, which would require companies to label whether food contains genetically-engineered ingredients.

By Council Members Wills, Johnson and Kallos.

Whereas, According to the Food and Drug Administration (FDA), humans have been modifying crops for thousands of years by repeatedly cross-pollinating plants until the breeder identifies offspring with the desired combination of traits; and

Whereas, Genetically modified organisms (GMOs) can be defined as organisms (i.e. plants, animals or microorganisms) in which the genetic material has been altered in a way that does not occur naturally by mating and/or natural recombination; and

Whereas, Genetically engineered (GE) plants are produced by isolating a gene for a desired trait and adding it to a single plant cell in a laboratory to generate a new plant; and

Whereas, Genetic engineering has been used since the 1990s; and

Whereas, In 2012, GE soybeans accounted for 93 percent of all soybeans planted, and GE corn accounted for 88 percent of corn planted, according to the FDA; and

Whereas, The FDA most recently issued guidance in November 2015 for manufacturers who wish to voluntarily label their products as containing genetically modified ingredients but does not require such labeling; and

Whereas, The FDA also recently approved the first genetically engineered animal intended for food, AquAdvantage Salmon; and

Whereas, Some advocates argue that consumers have a right to know what is in their food and that manufacturers should be required to label food that is genetically engineered; and

Whereas, According to the Center for Food Safety, 64 countries, including the entire European Union, Japan, Australia, Russia and China require food containing genetically modified material to be labeled; and

Whereas, The Biotechnology Food Labeling Uniformity Act (S.2621), introduced by Senator Jeff Merkley, would amend the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act to require food that contains an ingredient from a GMO to be labeled as genetically engineered; and

Whereas, The bill allows four options for labeling that require either identifying each GMO ingredient or including a blanket statement or symbol to indicate that some ingredients are genetically-engineered; and

Whereas, S.2621 would exempt from this requirement food in which GMO ingredients account for less than 0.9 percent of the weight of the food; and

Whereas, The labeling requirements of the bill would preempt state and local labeling requirements; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Council of the City of New York calls upon the United States Congress to pass and the President to sign the Biotechnology Food Labeling Uniformity Act, which would require companies to label whether food contains genetically-engineered ingredients.
