The Death of Jacob Day.

Mr Jacob Day, one of New York's oldest residents, died at his home, No 50 W. 13th street, this city, on Friday morning, 11th inst., of Bright's disease of the kidneys. Mr Day had suffered from this complaint for many years, and though apparently enjoying excellent health until within a year or so ago, he had constan'ly been annoved by it. Mr Day was 67 years of age at his death, highly respected for his Christian and manly qualities, and had been for many years a constant and prominent member of the Abyssinia Baptist Church. He was probably the oldest caterer in the city, and amassed considerable wealth in the prosecution of that business.' His funeral took place from the Abyssinia Baptist Church in Waverly Place, on Tuesday, at 11 A. M. The services were very impressive and were conducted by the pastor, the Rev Wm Spelman, assisted by Revs W. T. Dixon, of Brooklyn, and D. W. Wisher, of the Mt Olivet Church. The church was filled with a large concourse of persons, many of whom knew Mr Day in life. The interment took place in the family plot in Cypress Hills Cemetery.
