

How Are The People of New York City Doing?

Fiscal 2022 Executive Plan Fact Sheet

COVID-19 in New York City

COVID-19

Confirmed Cases

NYC: 774,942

US: 32,608,287

*Excess Deaths:

NYC: 30,787

US: 570,621

Confirmed Deaths

NYC: 27,823

US: 580,073

COVID 19 Vaccine

Total Doses Administered

NYC: 7,228,161

US: 264,680,844

Total Doses Delivered

NYC: 8,438,445

US: 337,089,765

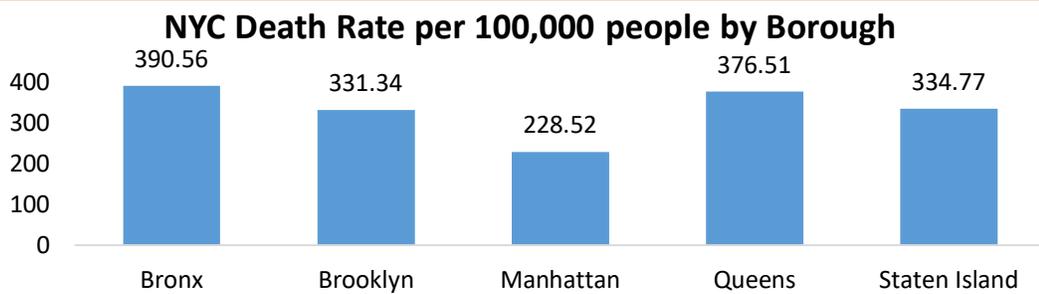

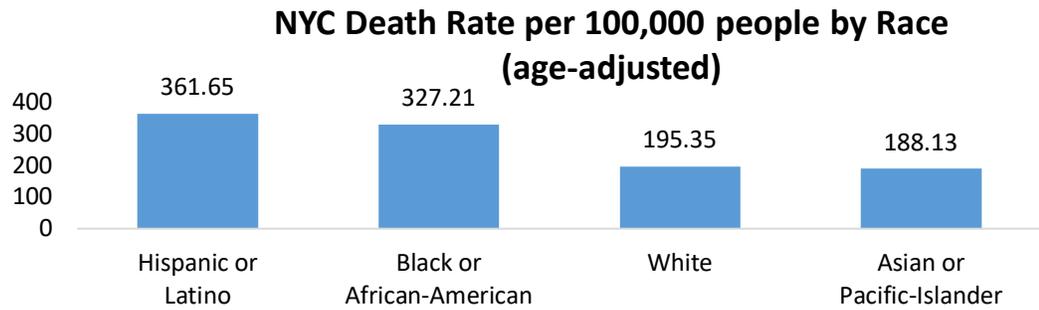

NYC 16+ Vaccinated

Partially: 3,834,612

Fully: 3,059,034

Source: NYC Department of Health and CDC.
Data as of May 12, 2021.

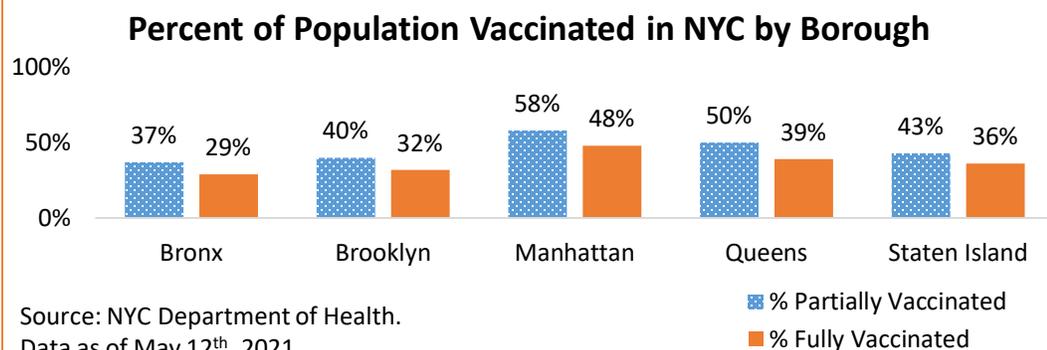

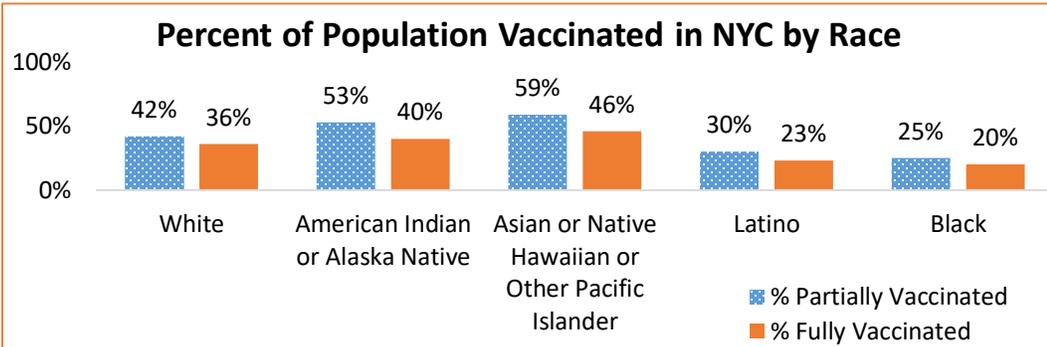

*Deaths that were found to be in excess of the seasonal expected baseline. Data as of May 1, 2021.

Source: NYC Department of Health.
Data as of May 12th, 2021.

As of May 12th, 2021, there are 27,823 confirmed COVID-19 deaths in New York City. The highest rates of deaths were concentrated in communities of color and within the boroughs of Queens and the Bronx.

New York City COVID-19 Vaccination

Source: NYC Department of Health.
Data as of May 12th, 2021.

Asian or Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander have the highest rate of vaccination among adults in New York City while Black and Latinos are being left behind. Also, Manhattan and Queens have the highest vaccination rate among boroughs in New York.

New York City Employment

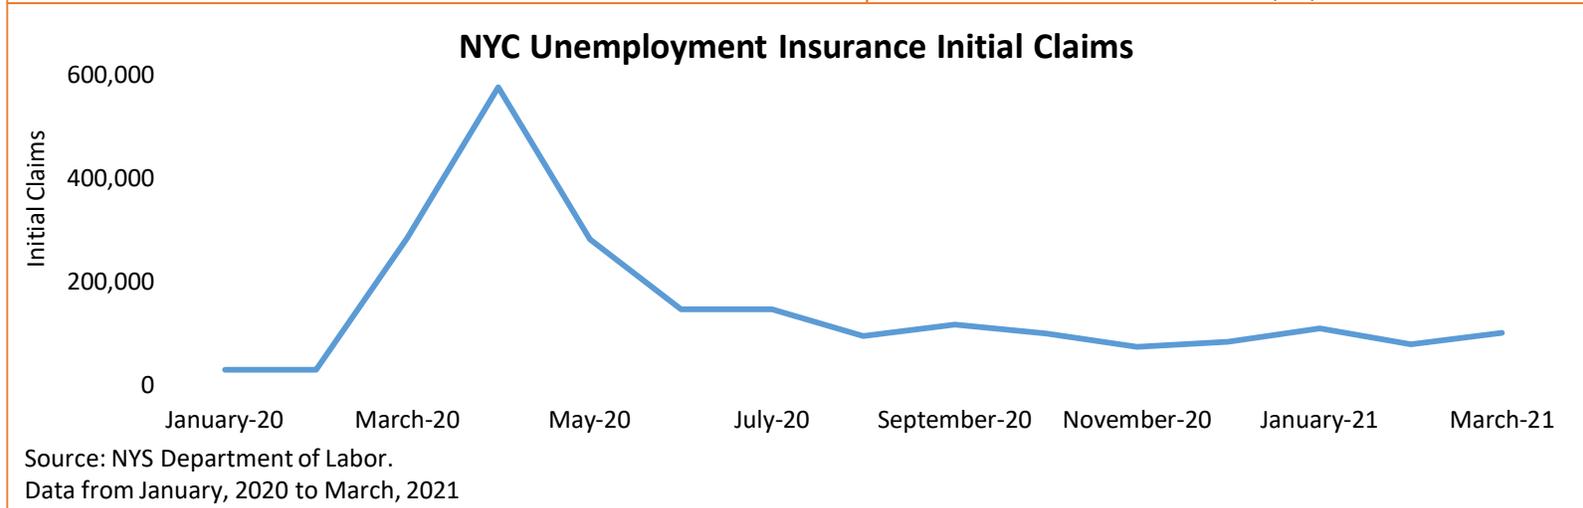

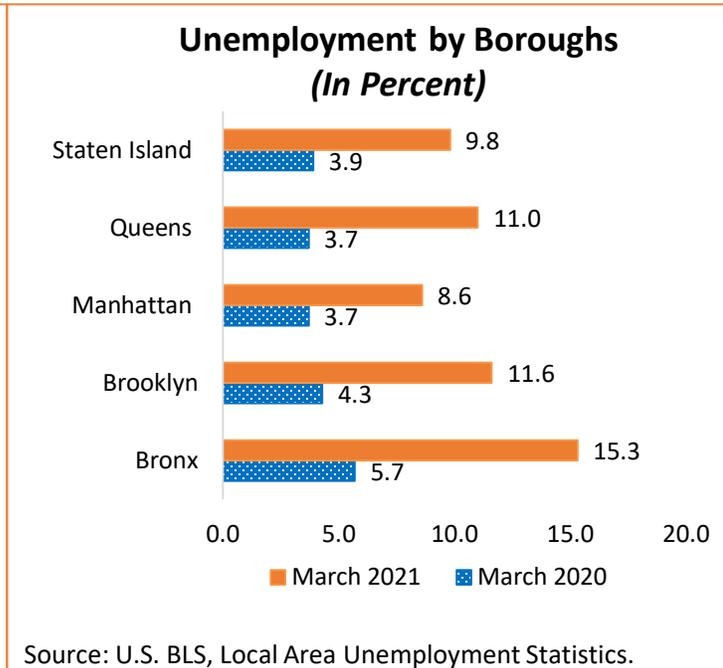

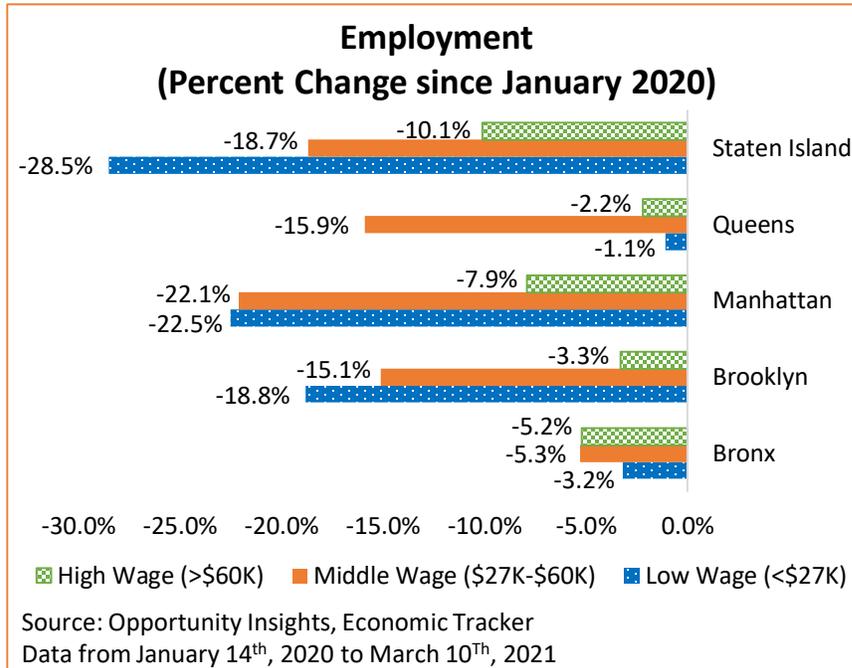

New York City Employment (number in thousands)	March 2021	Change from March 2019 to March 2020
		Number	Percent
Total Nonfarm	4,090	-541.4	-11.7
Natural resources, Mining and Construction	132.3	-24	-15.4
Manufacturing	53.7	-10.2	-16
Trade, transportation, and utilities	521.5	-100.3	-16.1
Information	210.7	-17.7	-7.7
Financial activities	459.5	-23.1	-4.8
Professional and business services	702.5	-66.0	-8.6
Education and health services	1034.3	-57.5	-5.3
Leisure and hospitality	232.5	-200.5	-46.3
Other Services	156.2	-33.2	-17.5
Government	586.8	-8.9	-1.5

As of March 2021, Information, government, financial activities, and education and health services sectors have had minimal job losses. However, leisure & hospitality has lost nearly half the jobs over the past year.

Overall, low & middle wage workers are seeing higher unemployment than high wage workers, except in Queens and the Bronx. Staten Island and Manhattan have seen the greatest loss in low & middle wage workers.

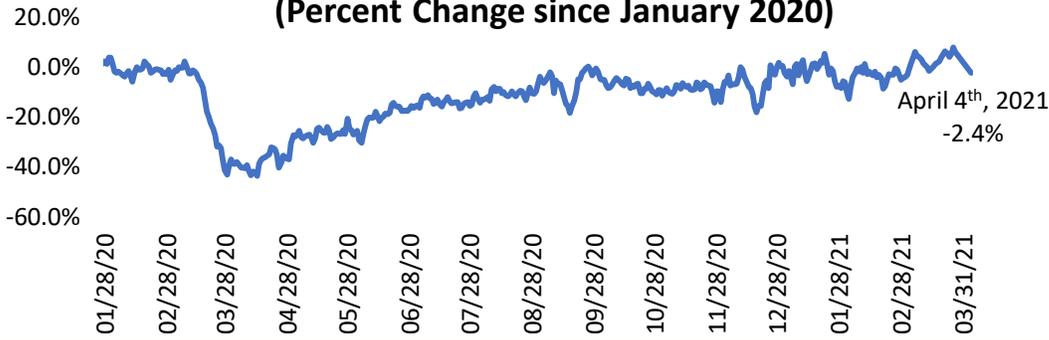

All boroughs have seen big increases in unemployment, but the Bronx is by far worst hit.

Source: NYS Department of Labor.

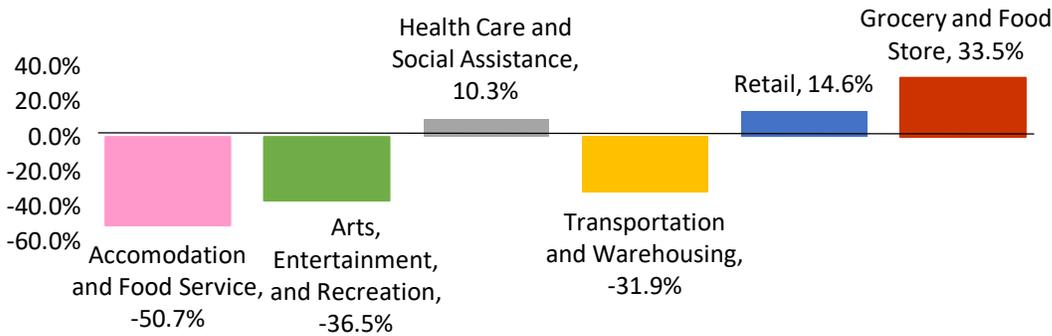

New York City Consumer Spending

All Consumer Spending (Percent Change since January 2020)

Consumer Spending by Industry (Percent Change since January 2020)

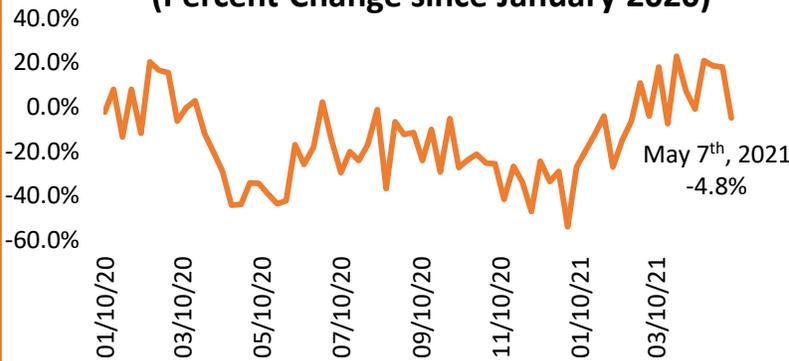

The Accommodation and Food Service industry has been hit the hardest with a loss of 50.7 percent in consumer spending since January of last year. Other industries, such as the Art, Entertainment & Recreation, and the Transportation & Warehousing industries saw losses in consumer spending during the same time period of 36.5 percent and 31.9 percent, respectively.

On the other hand, Grocery and Food Store industry saw a jump of 33.5 percent in consumer spending since January 2020. Other industries such Retail and Health Care and Social Assistance saw a jump in consumer spending of 14.6 percent and 10.3 percent, respectively.

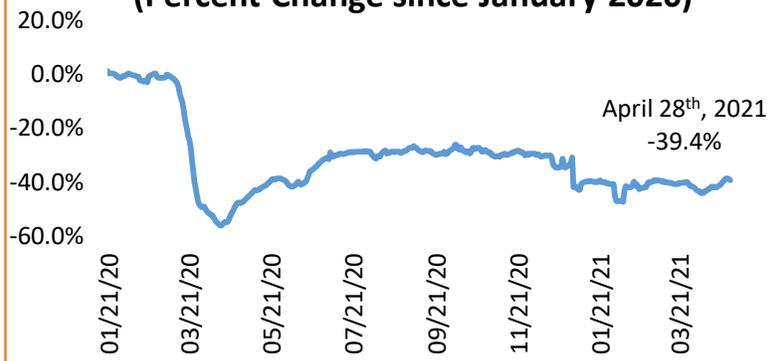

Source: Opportunity Insights, Economic Tracker.
Data from January 13, 2020 to April 4, 2021

New York City Businesses

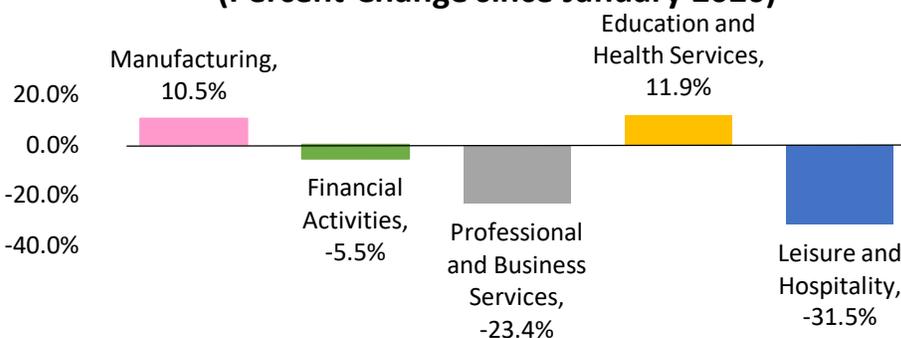

*Average Level of Job posting (Percent Change since January 2020)

Small Businesses Open (Percent Change since January 2020)

Average Level of Job Posting by Industry (Percent Change since January 2020)

Overall, there were 4.8 percent less job openings in New York City on May 7, 2021 compared to January 2020. Also, there were 39.4 percent less businesses open on April 28th, 2021 compared to January 2020.

The Leisure and Hospitality, the Professional & Business Services and the Financial Activities industries all have seen a decrease in job posting during this period.

However, there have been small increases in job postings in the Education & Health Services, and Manufacturing industries.

Source: Opportunity Insights, Economic Tracker.
Data from January 10th, 2020 to May 07th, 2021